LIEGE FORTS STILL HOLD OUT

SKIRMISHES ALONG FRENCH ARMY FRONT

Losses on Both Sides Serious in Clash With German Troops

BOTH SIDES RAPIDLY BEING STRENGTHENED

Aeroplanes Had Part in Fight
Along Vosges Mountains
Saturday Night

INUNDATION OF VALLEY DID NOT STOP FRENCH

Paris, Aug. 10.—A statement issued by the war department says numerous skirmishes are taking place along the entire front of the French army. One clash with the Germans was violent and the losses on both sides were serious.

The official communication adds that the German troops are receiving reinforcements and that the French also are being strengthened. A battle began Saturday evening on the ridges of the Vosges Mountains. Aeroplanes took part. The French troops, after a desperate encounter obtained possession of the mountain passes of Bonhomme and Sainte Marie. Then on Sunday morning when the fighting was resumed they took a position dominating Sainte Marie Aux Mines. The French losses in the taking of Sainte Marie are not specifically given in the official report, which confines itself to declaring they were serious. The wounded French and German soldiers were taken to the French fortress of Epinal for treatment.

A French aeroplane, which ascended during the engagement, was repeatedly fired at, the officer acting as observer of the Germans' movements, receiving a bullet in the hip. The pilot of the machine, however, brought him safely to the ground and he was able to return to Belfort.

The German troops inundated the valley of the Seltz, hoping by this means to stop the advance of the French, but the quantity of water was not sufficient and the French troops were able to continue their march.

The French were in force to-day on the outskirts of the forest of Hardt, in front of Neu Breisch, which appears to be occupied in force.

Brussels, Aug. 10.—Reports reached here to-day from many directions of the retreat of the German cavalry before large French forces which are said already to have cleared considerable territory. The locality of the fighting is not revealed.

The Germans are proceeding into France chiefly through Esch, a town of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg, ten miles southeast of Luxembourg, where they have cut down trees and dug trenches. They have razed the village of Merle, and erected wooden platforms 400 yards long, for the unloading of horses and guns.

Rome, Aug. 10.—Eight Austrian regiments are reported to have crossed Lake Constance en route for Alsace.

RESERVISTS IN CANADA ARE REQUIRED AT HOME

Order Received at Ottawa is Transmitted to Five Thousand Men.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 10.—The imperial authorities have advised the government that all British reservists in Canada are required at home to join the British army. There are between four and five thousand reservists in Canada, mostly in the west, more particularly in British Columbia. The militia department this morning mailed letters to all reservists in Canada informing them that they must at once respond to Britain's call. It is expected that within a week all British army reservists will be on their way to Great Britain.

ADMIRALTY WARNS FISHERMEN NORTH SEA AGAIN CLOSED

London, Aug. 10.—3.45 p. m.—The North Sea was again closed to the fishing fleets to-day. The harbor-master at Scarborough received a message from the admiralty instructing him to tell the masters of fishing vessels not to go out until further notice.

TOYS AT CHRISTMAS SHORT BECAUSE WAR STOPS MANUFACTURE

New York, Aug. 10.—Importers of toys are hard hit by the European war, and the present indications are there will be a dearth of the latest productions from Germany, Austria and Russia for the coming Christmas season. The first shipments had just been made on the other side when the war broke out, and with the arrival here last week of the steamship President Lincoln, the last entries were received. Dealers in toys say that if the war keeps up Canadians and Americans will have to begin to make all of their toys.

STRANGERS TELL OF AGITATION AGAINST EMPEROR OF GERMANY

Paris, Aug. 10.—A special to the Figaro from Brussels says that two strangers who arrived from Berlin, which city they had left with some difficulty, declared they had witnessed an agitation against the emperor in the German capital. They said that in the Avenue of Tilleuls they heard cries of "Down with the emperor" and "Down with the crown prince."

KARLSRUHE ESCAPED PURSUING CRUISERS

San Juan, Porto Rico, Aug. 10.—The German cruiser Karlsruhe took on board 900 tons of coal here yesterday and sailed for an unknown destination. Her captain reported that he was in an engagement last Friday night off the Bahamas, when the Karlsruhe was pursued by four British and French cruisers. When he first sighted the lights the captain thought it was a schooner until a shot was fired. He said he believed one of the cruisers was disabled as the pursuit was abandoned and the other war vessels appeared to be assisting her.

SWITZERLAND DECLARES STATE OF MARTIAL LAW

Washington, Aug. 10.—Charge Huebner, of the Swiss legation, informed the state department that martial law had been declared in Switzerland. Both French and German troops are menacing the integrity of Switzerland with their operations in the vicinity of Basel, which lies close to Muehlhausen, reported captured by the French. The charge stated that the activities so near the Swiss border have made it necessary to prepare to resist invasion.

NURENBERG PROBABLY STEAMING TO CHINA

San Francisco, Aug. 10.—The German cruiser Nuremberg was sighted by the Persia July 29, near Midway Islands, bound west. That was before the declaration of war by Germany. Previously she had cleared from Honolulu for Samoa. Since then there have been repeated rumors that the Nuremberg was in Pacific coast waters. Her position when sighted by the Persia would indicate that she probably kept on westward to join the German forces in China waters, where Germany has a base.

GUNS SENT TO QUEBEC

Ottawa, Aug. 10.—It was learned here to-day that the military authorities are rushing big guns to Quebec with all possible speed.

FRANCE AGAINST AUSTRIA

RUSSIAN FRONTIER SOON TURNED TO BATTLEFIELD

Germany's Small Detachments Forming Into Brigades Preparatory to Taking Field in Attempt to Cross to Russia

St. Petersburg, Aug. 10.—The regular troops of the German army, who hitherto have been scattered in small detachments along the frontier, are now collecting near the Russian border in brigades, composed of two or three regiments each, all in readiness to take the field.

The positions in the border villages have been occupied by units of cavalry and infantry of the German army reserve.

Aeroplanes Scouting Every Day.

No serious encounters have occurred yet on the frontier but frequent skirmishes between the outposts are reported. The German military aeroplanes fly daily in the direction of Kovno, capital of the Russian province of the same name, which has an outlet on the Baltic.

The Emperor of Russia has telegraphed King Albert expressing sincere admiration for the bravery of the Belgium army and the best wishes for Belgium in its contest for independence.

TRUCOS IN ALSACE

Paris, Aug. 10.—Detachments of the famous Trucos or native troops from the French colony of Algeria penetrated upper Alsace to-day.

TAKE AEROPLANE FACTORY

Paris, Aug. 10.—In the capture of Muelhausen, the French seized a great aeroplane factory operated by a noted German manufacturer.

Germans Trapped in Belgian City Until King's Troops Come

London, Aug. 10.—The Belgian legation here declared at 10 o'clock this morning, in connection with the siege of Liege: "Up to the present everything is all right at Liege. The forts are still holding out."

Messages received here to-day in official quarters from the Belgian general staff assert that the occupation of the town of Liege by the German troops has not had the slightest influence on the strategic situation. It is declared that so long as the ring of forts around Liege remains intact, as it still is, the guns command three of the principal roads by which the German army can advance. This, it is pointed out, makes it impossible for the Germans, under the present circumstances, to receive supplies or ammunition.

Means of Escape Cut by Belgians.

Every line of railroad between Liege and the German frontier is alleged to have been destroyed and the Belgian troops are said to have blown up every bridge, culvert and tunnel. The Belgian general staff declares that it has received reports that the Germans, expecting to take Liege in a few hours, brought with them only sufficient food for a few days and little ammunition, their plan being to rush Liege and make it their base of operations.

The same authority states that the German assertion of the capture of four thousand Belgian prisoners is baseless, and adds that not a single Belgian soldier remains in the town of Liege, as they are all quartered in the forts.

Forts Guard All Outlets From City.

As far as can be learned by the Belgian general staff, some 120,000 German troops were engaged at Liege. They are said to have been so weakened as to be unable effectively to attack the forts. On the other hand it is argued that it is not possible for the forts to concentrate their fire on the town of Liege. The next development in the situation is expected to be the arrival of the Belgian main army, reported to be advancing rapidly from Louvain, in the northwest to attack the Germans occupying the town of Liege.

No big engagement between the allied armies and the German troops is expected on Belgian soil until the French and Belgian combined forces take the offensive.

French Helped Cut Off Invaders.

London, Aug. 10.—A telegram from Charleval, Belgium, to the Daily Mail dispatched on Sunday night, said a force of French troops arrived in time to participate in a fine success of General Leman's Belgian division over the German troops investing Liege.

The correspondent adds: "The French succeeded in reaching the town of Liege, and working behind the Germans, cut off their retreat."

"The Germans are said to have lost 8,000 killed and wounded, while 1,700 of them were captured."

Little Change in Belgium To-day.

Brussels, Aug. 10.—The Belgian general staff to-day says the situation in regard to the Germans has modified but little since Saturday. However, the German forces are said to be going backwards before the advance of the French troops, a considerable effective force of which has got into contact with the German advance guard. It is reported that the entire territory to the south of the Meuse has been cleared of German soldiers. The French and Belgian armies will take the offensive simultaneously in conformity with a concerted plan of campaign.

Outrage Reported From Warsaw.

After the German troops reached Warsaw in the province of Liege, according to people who saw their arrival, they assembled all the inhabitants and chose fourteen from among them. Of these eight are said to have been shot and two hanged. The mayor himself was arrested but afterward liberated by German officers who had been his guests the day before.

Other instances of alleged outrages by German soldiers are related in the Belgian governmental press.

TAKING PROJECTILES TO BRESLAU AND GOEBEN

London, Aug. 10.—A dispatch from Rome to the Daily Chronicle says the Austrian steamer Bayern, laden with dynamite and live projectiles, is reported to be trying to penetrate the Adriatic Sea. It is suspected that her mission is to replenish the munitions of the German cruisers Goeben and Breslau.

OTTAWA WOMEN PLAN FOR HOSPITAL SHIP

Ottawa, Aug. 10.—By desire of H. R. H. Duchess of Connaught, a mass meeting of women will be held at Rideau hall at 4 p. m. to-day for the purpose of raising funds which will be devoted to the equipment of a hospital ship. It is to be handed over to the British admiralty for use in the present war.

CHASED BY WARSHIP

New York, Aug. 10.—The captain of the Atlantic Transport liner Minnetonka, in to-day from London with 127 cabin passengers, reported that his ship had been chased by a war vessel from a point some distance east of Nantucket light ship to nearly within sight of land.

VILLAGE PILLAGED

Brussels, Aug. 10.—It is asserted here that after 200 German soldiers occupying a farm at Solon, near Pepinster in the province of Liege had been fired on by three workmen, the village was given over to pillage by the German troops and the three workmen were shot by a firing squad.

BRITAIN HAS HEAPS OF FOOD FOR PEOPLE

Germany Outflanked Many Ways Which Now Go Against Her

London, Aug. 10.—Germany is being given a rude awakening in several directions. To-day in messages from the British embassy officials, journalists who escaped Rotterdam from Berlin show how confidently Germany counted on two things.

Firstly, an easy, swift march through Belgium, thus enabling Germany to break through the line of French fortresses along the Franco-German frontier.

Secondly, a financial and food panic in England, civil war in Ireland, which Germany hoped would together ensure Britain's neutrality.

Both calculations failed miserably. The almost incredible gallant stand of the Belgians at Liege already has delayed the German advance three days, and the removal of German wounded, replenishment of ammunition supplies, and other readjustment of German plans will, experts expect, mean a whole week's delay, so now possible French mobilization concentration will be finished first, enabling France to deliver a smashing blow upon the not fully prepared enemy.

Moreover, Russia has been given so much more time to muster her gigantic resources. As for expectations of a panic, a British country never stood more calm and resolute in a moment of crisis. Banks report conditions almost normal. The pound and ten shilling notes passed generally into circulation. Government measures against excessive food prices are working admirably. Indeed, supplies of food this season have never been so large in London port as now, partly because of German and other merchant cargoes destined to continental ports which have been diverted here.

The only conceivable shortage is in eggs and bacon.

ONE MILLION BAGS OF CANADIAN FLOUR

Ottawa, Aug. 8.—The Canadian government has made the magnificent offer of a million bags of flour as a gift from the Dominion to the United Kingdom. The offer has been accepted. The government has already made arrangements for fulfilling the offer and shipment will start in the immediate future. The offer was made on August 6, when the following message was sent to the Imperial government through His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught:

"My advisers request me to inform you that the people of Canada, through their government, desire to offer 1,000,000 bags of flour as a gift to the people of the United Kingdom, to be placed at the disposal of his majesty's government and to be used for such purposes as they may deem expedient."

To-day the following reply was received: "On behalf of the people of the United Kingdom, his majesty's government accepts with deep gratitude the splendid and welcome gift of flour from Canada, which will be of the greatest use for the steady supply of prices and relief of distress in this country. We can never forget the generosity and promptitude of this gift and the patriotism from which it springs."

A FRENCH STORY

Paris, Aug. 9.—This was one of the stories that Frenchmen of the capital are telling in justification of their pride in the French cavalry. It is claimed that during an engagement south of the Meuse a German patrol composed of an officer and twenty-two Uhlans met a French patrol of one officer and seven men. The Germans hesitated to attack and the French officer, advancing, shot and killed the German officer and put his companions to flight.

Naval Expert on the Situation

London, Aug. 9.—Archibald Hurd, the naval expert of the London Daily Telegraph, says: "Sea power or command of the sea may be exercised without the main fleets becoming engaged at all. They may effect their object by what Admiral Mahan called 'static force.' So long as the German fleet is placed in such circumstances that it must either remain in port under shelter of fortifications and of its screen of destroyers or risk fighting at a manifest disadvantage, these conditions may continue to rule. Meanwhile the theatre of war is closed to German merchant ships."

The long list of captures of German merchantmen appearing every day are evidence of exercise of sea pressure. Nothing in the shape of food can enter Germany by sea. Her seaboard supplies of every kind are stopped. The cessation of her trade and commerce and the consequent scarcity will presently have an effect upon her population generally and also upon the provisioning of her huge military forces.

"News from the Mediterranean suggests an exciting chase of the German battle cruiser Goeben and her consort, the Breslau, which escaped from Messina Friday. They are pursued by three battle cruisers as powerful and swift as the Goeben—the Inflexible, carrying the flag of Admiral Sir Berkeley Milne; the Indefatigable and the Indomitable."

AIRCRAFT WILL PLAY AN IMPORTANT PART

New York, Aug. 9.—General Nelson A. Miles foresees that the air forces will have a large part in deciding the great European conflict.

"If the war is prolonged for a great period of time," he says, "it will be due not to the land forces or to the dreadnoughts, but to the forces of the air and the wireless."

General Miles, who is at the summer home of Nathan Strauss at Manarock, said Friday: "The use of wireless telegraphy is a new element in warfare. The wireless will undoubtedly be used most effectively by all the great nations involved in the present struggle for supremacy among the powers. What it will do in the way of changing warfare cannot be anticipated."

"The genius of man has solved the problem of navigation of the air. The airship is now in use by all the countries engaged in the present conflict."

"The science of navigation has undoubtedly developed the most daring body of men ever engaged in any enterprise. Assuming, then, that the courage and skill of aviators of the contending nations may be equal, the results will be determined the same as was the case in the days of the breech-loading rifle, the machine guns, the high-power guns, the steel armored ships and the dreadnoughts."

"Great battles in the air will soon be recorded."

ASKS AMERICANS TO SUSPEND JUDGMENT

Washington, Aug. 9.—Americans were asked to withhold judgment on the European war situation in a remarkable statement given out yesterday by Dr. Henschel von Heimhausen, acting ambassador from Germany to the United States.

"History is repeating itself in the present situation," said Dr. von Heimhausen. "On September 2, 1870, during the Franco-Prussian war, the American papers, misled by dispatches from Europe, published the story of a French victory at Sedan. On the following day the French capitulated."

"Germany is now unflinchingly facing half the world. She is cut off from means of communication with this country and is pending the receipt of the real facts, I ask Americans to calmly withhold judgment both as to the causes of the war and the probable result."

PRESENTATION OF GUNS

Paris, Aug. 9.—The Creusot Steel works has presented to the French government twenty-six complete batteries of 105 millimetre guns of a new type which had been ordered by a foreign government just before the war broke out. The company informed the government that it stood ready to pay indemnity for the non-execution of the contract. As the manipulation of the guns requires special knowledge, a number of the Creusot men have enlisted to handle them. The gift represents a value of over $3,000,000.

GERMANY'S BARBAROUS NAVAL PRACTICES

Vancouver, Aug. 9.—A special to the Province from London says:

Everyone is eagerly awaiting the news of what is happening behind the impenetrable screen over the North Sea. Those qualified to judge ridicule American alarms, which seem based on the absurd notion that Germany has a large number of cruisers about to prey upon British commerce in the North Atlantic.

The naval editor of the Daily Telegraph says: "Apart from two cruisers which are so active in the Mediterranean and ships which form Germany's Far Eastern squadron, there are only two vessels of any account, the Dresden and Karlsruhe, which could do much harm, as both ships have a sea speed of about twenty-five knots. British cruisers are from two to three knots slower. On the other hand, the coal endurance of the German vessels is limited, and sooner or later they must replenish their bunkers. They therefore will have to put into American West Indian ports. In either event wireless signals will certainly reveal their whereabouts."

"A more serious obstacle to peaceful enjoyment of Atlantic routes by British ships is the reported arming of German liners, but they will receive short shift when, as they inevitably must, they encounter British men-of-war. Since coal controls the activity of all marauding men-of-war, Germany is irrefragably handicapped in this respect. We may soon hope to see the Atlantic trade proceeding without fear of interruption."

The greatest indignation has been aroused by what British journals call Germany's adoption of methods of barbarism in sowing contact mines in the open seas. The Daily Telegraph calls it murder against the whole world on the high seas.

The German mine-layer Koenigsluke appears to have broken the laws of war for two days by laying mines disguised as a merchantman, when a mine-layer should bear a clear, distinctive mark and by placing the mines in the open.

GERMAN ANXIETY REGARDING ALSACE

London, Aug. 9.—The report that the German kaiser has left for Alsace is regarded here as significant of an important new development in the situation. It is clear that the French have taken the offensive on a large scale, especially in Alsace, where they are reported to have occupied the important town of Muelhausen, which, next to Strassburg, some sixty miles away, is the most important city in that province. Preliminary to the occupation of Muelhausen the French defeated the Germans at the battle of Altkirch, an important engagement, in which heavy losses were sustained on both sides. If the reports that the kaiser has left for Alsace and that the Austrians are sending forty thousand troops to Basel, on the Switzerland frontier, are correct, they indicate that considerable anxiety is felt in Berlin regarding the situation in that region. Should the French advance continue it will not be long before they reach Strassburg, which is strongly fortified and will make a determined resistance. French successes in Alsace and Luxembourg would materially affect the German campaign in Belgium.

MINISTER OF MILITIA ISSUES INSTRUCTIONS

Ottawa, Aug. 9.—Hon. Col. Hughes yesterday gave out the following official statement: Recruiting for the special overseas force is being done by local militia officers throughout the Dominion and it is desired that interested candidates will not write to Ottawa or trouble the minister with letters and telegrams for enlistment. All such lists are to be made up and forwarded by the captains of companies and officers commanding regiments. Applicants, therefore, should be made by individuals in all cases to the local militia commanding officer in their own neighborhood.

GENEROSITY OF AN AMERICAN WOMAN

Washington, Aug. 9.—Mrs. White-law Reid, widow of the former American ambassador to Great Britain, notified the American Red Cross to-day that she would defray the expenses of twelve Red Cross nurses for Great Britain for one month. Mrs. Reid also has sent $10,000 to the British Red Cross.

"IF THE WORLD BE FILLED WITH DEVILS"

Berlin, Aug. 9, via Amsterdam and London, 11:50 a.m.—Prince von Huelow, former German imperial chancellor, in a patriotic appeal to the German nation, made in the Hamburger Nachrichten, to-day, concluded with the striking phrase: "Even if the world be filled with devils, the German people will defend and maintain its place in the sun."

BRITISH ARMAMENT COST IS LARGEST PRO RATA

Berlin, Aug. 10.—The Nauticus, a report which appears annually, containing contributions from the foremost experts on German naval affairs and armaments, is recently published for the current year. It has, as usual, attracted much interest in the press, owing to the accuracy of its information and statistics.

With regard to the expenditure on armaments, Germany with the recent increase in her army, holds the first place among military powers, and the army and navy estimates for 1914 amount to 2,245,633,000 marks, including 409,646,000 marks obtained by the war levy. The other powers range as follows:

Russia 1,834,991,000 marks, Britain 1,640,874,000 marks, France 1,289,135,000 marks, United States 1,010,712,000 marks, Austria-Hungary 726,637,000 marks, Italy 620,628,000 marks, Japan 355,566,000 marks.

"The expenditure on armaments is relatively highest in Britain, where, with a population of 46,600,000, the proportion per head is 35.66 marks. In Germany, with a population of 68,900,000, the proportion is 32.83 marks, and in the United States the relatively low sum of 10.25 marks."

FACILITATE SHIPMENT OF GRAIN TO EUROPE

New York, Aug. 10.—Plans are expected to be made at a conference here to-day by representatives of the New York Produce exchange and western grain exchanges for facilitating grain shipments from this country to Europe. Members of the New York exchange discussed with the western exchange representatives yesterday the tentative plans which will probably be adopted to-day.

BUYERS WILL DETERMINE TREND OF COAL TRADE

New York, Aug. 10.—The European war has caused unprecedented conditions in the American export coal trade, according to the Black Diamond, the official organ of the coal interests. The result, the paper says, will be that the trend of coal trade affairs, outwardly at least, will be determined by the buyers rather than by the producers.

COMMUNICATION WITH GER- MANY.

New York, Aug. 9.—Theodore R. Lempe, manager of the wireless station at Tuckerton, N. J., announced to-day that the station had established direct communication with the wireless station at Hanover, Germany. Mr. Lempe said he had telegraphed Secretary Bryan to this effect and had offered to place the Tuckerton plant at the state department's service. Cable communication with Germany has been severed several days.

REASON IS GIVEN FOR DIFFERENT REPORTS

London, Aug. 10.—The discrepancy between the Belgian and German reports on the situation at Liege is believed by military men here to be accounted for by the retreat of the Belgian troops who had held the routes between the forts, and that the town of Liege has been taken by the Germans, who continue to advance on a line between Huy and Louvain, leaving part of their army to besiege the Liege forts.

SPAIN DECLINES ALL OVERTURES OF GERMANY

Rome, Aug. 9.—Germany has made further overtures to another European country; this time it is Spain. The Germans have made lavish promises to Spain in exchange for co-operation in attacking France. These took the form of territorial expansion in Morocco and elsewhere. Spain, however, refused to entertain the proposal.

BELGIUM STANDS READY TO PAY FOR ITS WHEAT

New York, Aug. 10.—The Belgian consul to-day gave out the following cablegram received from the Belgian minister of war at Brussels: "Let American exporters of wheat know that Belgian credit remains unimpaired and that Britain has advised that all boats with wheat come direct to Antwerp without stop, all payments being assured as in time of peace."

Order for Mobilization

The Consul for France at Montreal informs the French citizens who are subject to Mobilization that general mobilization has been declared, consequently all Frenchmen who can be mobilized must act in accordance with instructions contained in their Military book of Mobilization, and return to France by the shortest route without waiting an individual call. Those who may not have the means to start on the journey will receive a railway ticket at the nearest railway station on showing the Railway Official their Military Book for Mobilization, and will present themselves at the General Consulate at Montreal where they will have to establish their lack of means to rejoin their corps and where they will receive instructions. Those Frenchmen who are subject to the order of mobilization and who find themselves in the position just referred to will await before leaving for Montreal another advice which will be shortly published in the newspapers by the Consular Authority.

Under the present circumstances when the very existence of the nation is at stake there is no doubt that every Frenchman will do his duty.

Why Drag Through Life Wearing Worthless Trusses?

90% of the Suffering and Trouble Ruptured People Go Through is Caused by Spring and Leg-Strap Trusses

Aren't you sick and tired of wearing trusses? Do you feel as if you can't get safe in, or which hurt so they scarcely give you a minute's peace? Don't you know that such contraptions will sooner or later let your rupture get the best of you? Don't you know they are almost sure to cripple you up, so you won't be able to keep at work, won't be able to make a living? Aren't you afraid they'll gradually let you get so bad that sooner or later you'll have to face a dangerous operation? ## TITLED MAN TRAVELS DISTURBED GERMANY

Sir Thomas Roddick Tells of Escape to France Before War Came

London Aug. 10.—Sir Thomas Roddick, who hope to sail on the Royal George Monday, had some exciting experiences before their escape to France from Germany. Having gone through Contesville, Sir Roddick came through Nancy, Metz, Gravelotte on Sunday week. Though the British public little suspected it, there were evidences of German mobilization even then far advanced, while Germany was still posing as champion peace in Europe. Every town was full of mobilized soldiers. Sir Roddick's movements were most carefully watched, sometimes German soldiers pointed guns at them threateningly. They left Paris Wednesday, August 5. The only means of reaching Havre was by a broken down automobile, all effective automobiles having been secured for the army. It took two days to cover 74 miles. Military everywhere stopped them to ensure against spies. They were compelled to leave all baggage behind, bringing only hand-grips. They reached London quite well, though somewhat exhausted, Friday and Saturday morning, Paris, in the words of Lady Roddick, was a city of weeping women. Quies half a mile long outside the railway station took a whole day to get tickets for trains. Shops were mostly closed except the restaurants, which later shut down. There was some rioting among Paris gamins, but the French people generally behaved remarkably well under the heavy strain. They were confident and well behaved, showing no fear on an unfeeling patriotism.

Six Canadian doctors and several nurses have enlisted already with the Canadian voluntary field hospital initiated to-day by Canada Lodge, London, to be placed at the disposal of Earl Kitchener. Substantial money contributions are arriving. Sir Frederick Williams Taylor is the treasurer for Canada. The Canadian committee include Lieut.-Governor Gibson, Toronto; Sir Richard McBride, Victoria; Colonel Patton, Belleville; Hon. William Bowser, Victoria; Adam Brown, Hamilton; Geoffrey Walker, Winnipeg; William Downie, St. John's.

JAPAN'S FLEET READY TO AID GREAT BRITAIN

First and Second Squadrons Put to Sea From Tokio This Morning.

Tokio, Aug. 9.—The first and second squadrons of the Japanese fleet put to sea this morning. Admiral Dewa is in command. The destination of the fleet is kept secret but there have been reports that a German squadron is threatening British shipping in the Orient, and it is believed that the movement of the Japanese warships is connected with this report. It is regarded as certain that the Japanese government is preparing to carry out the terms of the alliance with Britain in a literal sense without reserve. It is believed that this is likely to lead to a Japanese attack on Tsingtau, the German naval base in the Far East.

London, Aug. 10.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Tokio says: "An all-night cabinet conference and activity in the navy department has strengthened the popular belief that Japan is about to take an active part in the war. A pronouncement by the government is hourly expected."

A Tokio dispatch to the Daily News and Leader says: "An ultimatum has been issued in conformity."

The remainder of the message was deleted by the censor.

On board U. S. S. California, Aug. 9.—Via wireless to San Diego, Cal., Aug. 10.—A general attack upon Mazatlan was ordered to-night by General Turbide, commander of the investing constitutionalists. Already in possession of the outer line of defenses, the besieging forces advanced to the earthworks on the edge of the city.

Fierce hand-to-hand fighting occurred in the trenches which, filled with dead only partially buried, cover the approach to the city's main fortifications. Indians aiding the constitutionalists used their knives with sanguinary effect. The federal gunboat Guerrero aided the garrison by shelling the positions of the besiegers.

GERMANY'S ISOLATION.

The Paris Figaro reports that demonstrations against the Kaiser and the Crown Prince have occurred on the streets of Berlin. While at this time too much reliability need not be placed on what the highly sensational French press says is taking place in the German capital, there undoubtedly will be strong resentment against the policy of the Kaiserbund if Germany receives a serious setback. Faced with defeat, the anger of the people would react upon those responsible for the cataclysm which was destroying the splendid industrial fabric they had erected after so many years of patient, intelligent striving.

Even now Germany is feeling the pinch. Her commerce is being swept from the seas. Her annual importations amount to $2,670,000,000, of which the large proportion of $1,675,000,000 comprises agricultural products and foodstuffs. None of this can enter the country from the sea while her foreign commerce, aggregating more than five billion dollars a year, is being totally wiped out. This means the closing of factories and the strangling of industrial activity generally, which, with the reduction of food supplies, will cause the utmost misery among the people.

The pressure of these conditions soon must force the German fleet to battle. As long as it remains sheltered near the mouth of the Weser it might as well be at the bottom of the sea as far as Germany's military operations are concerned. It must endeavor to break through the massive lines awaiting it outside or another ally will join the Triple Entente, an ally more terrible than all the martial forces of Europe put together—famine.

THE SITUATION.

Two reports have been received of a skirmish between British and German cruiser squadrons in the North Sea in which submarines played a part. One stated that a German submarine had been sunk; another that it was a British submarine which had suffered. Both agreed, however, that none of the larger ships had been injured. So far there have been no authentic reports of fleet engagements in that area.

Official reports from France give no definite details of the strength of the French in Alsace near the Swiss frontier, where General Joffre is believed to be in command. Austrian troops have been hurried there to the aid of the Germans and an important battle is believed to be imminent. Indications are that another forward movement of the main French force is in preparation near Metz, as official reports from Paris say the German troops have inundated the Seille valley between Metz and Nancy to hinder the French advance, but the quantity of water is understood to be insufficient to prevent the French operations.

Aside from the flanking movement through Belgium by which the French assume the German army will try to get to the rear of the great French fortresses on the frontier, indications were to-day that the strong German advance is to be made on France by way of Luxembourg.

The London Daily Telegraph's Brussels correspondent says that Germany is mobilizing a million men of the Landsturm or final reserve. Numerous skirmishes are recorded along the Franco-German front, none, however, being very serious.

German troops occupied the town of Liege, but not the surrounding forts, which were still holding out to-day, according to reports. A full in the fighting was announced from Brussels, which expects the next clash will occur when the allied forces have completed plans to take the offensive against the German troops.

The German cruisers Goeben and Breslau have evaded their British and French pursuers and have arrived in the Adriatic. An Austrian fleet was reported proceeding from Pola to succor them.

Ships reaching New York to-day report hearing wireless messages that the North German Lloyd steamer Kron Prinz Wilhelm had been captured by the British cruiser Essex in the North Atlantic.

TOLSTOY'S PROPHECY.

Not long after the death of Count Tolstoy, the great Russian novelist and philosopher, his grand-niece, the Countess Nastasia Tolstoy, published an article which obtained considerable prominence in the newspapers at the time. The countess said that in 1910 she had been requested by the Czar to procure from the aged writer, then suffering from paralysis which shortly afterwards killed him, a message for transmission to the King of Great Britain and the German Kaiser. She visited her grand-uncle and repeated the request to him, asking him to give his views on international matters and the prospects of Europe. Tolstoy replied that for two years he had been haunted by an obsession which he could not publish as fiction and instructed her to write at his dictation. The countess then describes what followed: "My aged host leaned back in his chair, covered his eyes with his hand and relapsed into an apparently comatose condition. For ten minutes he remained absolutely motionless. Then, straightening up like one in a trance, he began in a low and hollow voice:

"This is a revelation of events of a universal character, which must shortly come to pass. Their spiritual outlines are now before my eyes. I see floating upon the surface of the sea of human fate the huge silhouette of a nude woman. She is—with her beauty, her poise, her smile, her jewels—a superb-Venus. Nations rush madly after her, each of them eager to attract her, especially. But she, like an eternal courtesan, flirts with them all. In her hair-ornament of diamonds and rubies is engraved her name, 'Commercialism.' As alluring and bewitching as she seems, much destruction and agony follows in her wake. Her breath, reeking of sordid transactions, her voice of metallic character like gold, and her look of greed are so much poison to the nations who fall victims to her charms.

And behold, she has three gigantic arms with three torches of universal corruption in her hand. The first torch represents the flame of War, that the beautiful courtesan carries from city to city and country to country. Patriotism answers with flashes of honest flame, but the end is the roar of guns and musketry.

The second torch bears the flame of bigotry and hypocrisy. It lights the lamps only in temples and on the altars of sacred institutions. It carries the seed of falsity and fanaticism. It kindles the minds that are still in cradles and follows them to their graves.

The third torch is that of the law, that dangerous foundation of all unauthentic traditions, which first does its fatal work in the family, then sweeps through the larger worlds of literature, art and statesmanship.

The great conflagrations will start about 1912, set by the torch of the first arm in the countries of southeastern Europe. It will develop into a destructive calamity in 1913. In that year I see all Europe in flames and bleeding. I hear the lamentations of huge battlefields. But about the year 1915 a strange figure from the north—a new Napoleon—enters the stage of the bloody drama. He is a man of little militaristic training, a writer or a journalist, but in his grip most of Europe will remain till 1925. The end of the great calamity will mark a new political era for the Old World. There will be left no empires and kingdoms, but the world will form a federation of the United States of Nations. There will remain only four great giants—the Anglo-Saxons, the Latins, the Slavs and the Mongolians.

After the year 1925 I see a change in religious sentiments. The second torch of the courtesan has brought about the fall of the church. The ethical idea has almost vanished. Humanity is without the moral feeling. But then a great reformer arises. He will clear the world of the relics of monotheism and lay the cornerstone of the temple of pantheism. God, soul, spirit and immortality will be molten in a new furnace, and I see the peaceful beginning of an ethical era. The Mongol-Slav. He is already walking the earth—a man of active affairs. He himself does not now realize the mission assigned to him by a superior power.

And behold the flame of the third torch, which has already begun to destroy our family relations, our standards of art and morals. The relations between woman and man are accepted as a prosaic partnership of the sexes. Art has become realistic degeneracy. Political and religious disturbances have shaken the spiritual foundations of all nations. Only small spots here and there have remained untouched by those three destructive flames. The anti-national wars in Europe, the class war of America and the race wars in Asia have strangled progress for half a century. But then, in the middle of this century I see a hero of literature and art rising from the ranks of the Latins and purging the world of the tedious stuff of the obvious. It is the light of symbolism that shall outshine the light of the torch of Commercialism. In place of the polygamy and monogamy of to-day, there will come a poetogamy—a relation of the sexes based fundamentally upon poetic conceptions of life.

And I see the nations growing wiser, and realizing that the alluring woman of their destinies is after all nothing but an illusion. There will be a time when the world will have no use for armies, hypocritical religions and degenerate art. Life is evolution, and evolution is development from the simple to the more complicated forms of the mind and the body. I see the passing show of the world-drama in its present form, how it fades like the glow of evening upon the mountains. One motion of the hand of Commercialism and a new history begins.

Tolstoy thus predicted the Balkan war and the general conflagration which has followed it and was only a year out in his dates. Even at that his forecast—as to time was merely approximate. The remainder of the prophecy, dealing with social, economic and administrative reconstruction, is a condensation of the well-known propaganda which for years had been so much of a pre-occupation to him that he believed its fulfillment to be inevitable. To our mind the remarkable feature of the prophecy, whoever uttered it, is the accuracy with which it outlined the occurrences of the last two years. Most people knew that the Balkan region was Europe's peculiar powder magazine and that the piling up of armaments by the principal nations, together with the industrial unrest which accompanied it, eventually would result in a wide-sweeping outbreak, but few anticipated such startling developments so early. We notice that the forecast eliminates the Teutonic empire.

WOMEN ON FARMS.

Although the excellent resolution passed recently by the Royal Oak and Langford Women's Institutes was debated at a time of national peace, the importance of the suggestion stands out even more strongly now. If, as the resolution intimates, women on the farms suffer unnecessarily in times of peace, what must their outlook be in time of war?

The resolution reads: "Whereas changing industrial conditions have deprived the homes to a large extent of family help, making the burden of the work intolerably heavy for the mothers, and whereas the result in rural districts is apparent in the steady depopulation of the farms, the successful moving to the cities, an abnormally large proportion of the others going to early graves or insane asylums, and whereas the situation is utterly beyond solution by individual initiative and is one that strikes at the very roots of national well-being, therefore be it resolved that we petition the government to establish experimental stations for the consideration of home problems. A possible outline is herewith submitted to the Local Council of Women of Victoria and the Islands."

The outline, which is given at length herewith, contains nothing but the most practical and feasible of suggestions. The Women's Institute work has attracted the greatest of interest among women in the rural districts. It is useless to argue that the establishment of the suggested experimental stations for the consideration of home problems would be given but the scantiest consideration by the housewives. They have shown in their attendance at the household science, cookery and other lectures given at the Women's Institutes throughout the country that they are keenly alive to the need of simplification of their problems and to the lightening of the too-often unending routine and drudgery of the home. Statistics show beyond question that "an abnormally large proportion of the others" (who do not go to the cities) do go to early graves or insane asylums" owing to the isolation, the drudgery and the actual physical exertions of life on the farm. A noted Toronto physician (who is but one of many) stated the results of his observations in respect to the unusual proportion of women in the hospitals and asylums in this country. He considered that this condition was due to the hardships which had to be suffered by the women, much more than by the men, on Canadian farms. He further stated that there was sufficient evidence of the exceptional strain under which most must have worked, as originally it was not the naturally weak or incapable woman who ventured with her husband on to the homesteads and backwoods farms, but the more robust and resourceful type who would not be baffled or beaten by other than insurmountable hardships.

The following is the outline: "We suggest the establishment of one federal home experimental station and provincial home experimental station, run on somewhat the same lines as the experimental farms, such stations to be: "(1) Accessible to all women engaged in home-making or house-keeping. "(2) In direct communication with food inspectors, sanitary inspectors and manufacturers' associations, and to make suggestions to these bodies regarding improvement in materials, utensils, textiles and machinery from a housekeeper's standpoint. "(3) A centre where lectures on housekeeping problems are periodically given and from whence lecturers are sent to country districts. "(4) Furnished with illustrative material, pictures, printed matter and books bearing on all subjects pertaining to the home, samples of all materials and utensils, particularly new labor-saving devices, with initial cost, cost of running, cost relative to time and strength expended in manipulation. "(5) Such stations to be staffed with trained experts (preferably women)

Totaling the reports of naval casualties in the North Sea to date, we find that eighty-two vessels have been sunk or captured. Curiously enough, though, only a handful of wounded have been landed, leaving no other conclusion than that the opposing fleets are permitting their unfortunates to float upon the sea until the war is over. The effect of this sensational fiction upon the public mind will be to make it so sceptical that finally when the details of a real engagement are published very few will believe them.

Canada never produced a finer type of citizen than Colonel Rogers, whose death was reported in the Times on Saturday. The Colonel was honorable in his dealings with all men, was highly esteemed by all who had the privilege of knowing him, with his simple, unaffected manners and very attractive personality. He was a true gentleman of the old school and served his country faithfully in many capacities. His family have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

His Majesty the Kaiser appreciates his position. He has appealed for help to Italy, Portugal and Spain in turn, promising the latter the African possessions of France as a reward for her good offices. All overtures have been rejected. We doubt if there is a nation in the world to-day inclined to do honor to the military-mad potentate.

Several esteemed correspondents have favored us with letters, the contents of which have our complete endorsement. But these letters were not published for the reason that we deem the time inopportune. The subjects dealt with by the writers will not be forgotten.

Advance Showing of New Fall Ready-to-Wear for Women and Children

There are so many interesting features about the new styles for Fall and Winter wear that nothing short of seeing the garments can give you any idea of their handsome appearance and beauty. We therefore extend to you a hearty invitation to come and see the large assortment now displayed in the View street windows and in the showrooms on first floor.

Imported Costumes in Handsome Styles and Materials

The new Fall Suits are certainly very handsome, and the many novelty styles will appeal to all lovers of fashion. The new styles are so different to anything that's ever been shown before that individual descriptions are almost impossible.

One of the most noticeable features is in the length of coat. This is longer at the back than those of the preceding season, and is shorter in the front, many showing separate vest effect. Some models have the new Cape collar and military cape hanging carelessly down the back.

Collars and cuffs are mostly trimmed with velvet, fur or some contrasting material. The sleeves are mostly full length, and many have the bell-shaped cuff.

The Skirts Also Are Entirely Different

They are wider at the bottom and many have the long tunic effects. Some models are rather loose about the hips, being gathered in around the waistband which is finished with a girdle and ruffle at the knees; the width is about 45 or 46 inches, and at the hem of the flare flounce the width varies from a yard and three-quarters to two yards. In the absence of the flounce the extra width is afforded by clusters of side or inverted pleats stitched down to the knee where some of them are strapped.

The new fabrics include broadcloths, golfines, ridged and corded novelties in woolsens, also fancy tweed mixtures, wool poplins and serges.

Price of Novelty Suits Vary From $35.00 to $150.00

New Fall Coats and Capes in Novelty Styles

One of the most favored styles for Fall is the new Balmacaan. This coat, which was introduced but a short time ago, is to be continued, as it is an attractive style, and one that is greatly favored. The new Balmacaan is cut in the Raglan style and buttons straight to the bottom with a cape attached at the neck like the familiar Newmarket. The Balmacaan with detachable cape will serve the purpose of two garments since it is sufficiently light in weight to wear every day, and the cape when attached, fits it for wear in the most severely stormy weather.

In Addition to This Style

We are also showing a very wide range of practical styles in seven-eighths and three-quarter lengths. Some are on the circular cut styles and others with belted back effects. Most styles can be worn buttoned up close around neck or open as desired. Some Coats are without linings and others are lined to waist line or throughout.

Materials include heavy wool serges, plushes, caraculs, curl cloths, chin-chillas, broadcloths, fancy tweeds, blanket cloths and fancy checked tweeds in various designs.

Price of Novelty Coats Range From $12.50 to $47.50

Children's New Fall Coats in Serviceable Styles

Children's Coats come in most serviceable styles. They are warm, comfortable garments that can be worn buttoned close up to neck or showing revers if desired. Some show the yoke effect with plain collars, others are smartly trimmed with plush. There are both reefer and full-length styles. Some lined and others without linings. The materials include tweeds, curl cloths, blanket cloths and serges in colors navy, red, blue, fawns, browns, greys, checks and tweed mixtures. All sizes from 2 to 14 years.

They also desire to thank the nurses, etc., who aided the good work by selling tickets.

Navy League Donation.—The Navy League chapter, I. O. D. E., on Saturday passed a resolution that $50 be contributed to the patriotic fund being collected by the Daughters of the Empire. A similar sum, it was decided, would be contributed later.

Sidney Subscribers.—Subscriptions for the hospital ship and patriotic fund of the I. O. D. E. have been placed at the Merchants' bank, Sidney, and the office of the Sidney and Islands Review. Misses Lowndes and Houghton are in charge of the subscriptions.

Scouts Return.—After camping for two weeks at Albert Head the Fifth troop of Victoria Boy Scouts under Scoutmaster Johns returned to town yesterday. To-day the troops will visit the Seventh troop at Goldstream and will then take a holiday until September.

New Principal Appointed.—F. G. Dexter has been appointed principal of Oak Bay school to assume the position vacated last June. Mr. Dexter comes from Cranbrook where he was in charge of a large school for some time. He has had 14 years' experience and is trained in the physical departments too.

Will Store Baggage.—The trustees of the Pemberton building have kindly consented to provide space for the storage of the baggage of the men who go to join the Canadian contingent. The packages should be properly labelled and persons desiring to avail themselves of this offer should see W. Capley, superintendent.

Wager About War.—A well known Frenchman in Victoria, who is a friend of a well known German here, has wagered that if the French lose this war he will raise his hat to the German whenever they meet. The German has agreed to step off the sidewalk into the road whenever he meets the Frenchman if the army of the latter's nation is victorious.

Will Study Fruit.—Among the arrivals in the city on Saturday was J. Johnson, Dominion fruit commissioner, who is a guest at the Empress hotel. This is his first visit to the province, and his object is to make a complete tour of the whole fruit-growing area, with the purpose of encouraging closer co-operation between the Ottawa and Victoria governments in measures towards the development of the fruit industry. On his arrival, Mr. Johnson had an interview with R. M. Winslow, provincial horticulturist, who is to accompany him on his tour, and they hope to confer with the directors of the B. C. Fruit Growers' association at Penicott on August 15.

Labor Referendum.—A special meeting of the Trades and Labor council has been called for Wednesday in connection with the call of the British Columbia Federation of labor for a general strike in support of the Island miners. Since the special convention last month determined to hold the general opinion by a referendum the war situation has arisen, and the militia has been withdrawn from the strike area, a number of the miners, it is stated, having joined the regiments. The exceptional circumstances led the Vancouver Trades and Labor council to postpone action when the matter was before it on Friday night, nothing being decided as to what course was to be adopted.

PATRIOTIC AS PROSPEROUS.

A telegram has just been received by J. Burrill Morkan, manager of the Vancouver Island branch of The Great-West Life Assurance company, to the effect that all existing policyholders of this company will be permitted to engage in active military or naval service anywhere under the British flag without extra premium charge, despite anything in their policies to the contrary. This action is in keeping with the prevailing Canadian spirit at the present time and worthy of an institution whose record has been one of unexcelled liberality in pursuance of its motto, "Service to Policyholders." All policies issued by this company since January 1, 1911, have contained no restrictions as to residence, travel or occupation. Prior to that date military or naval service called for an extra premium. The present announcement will, therefore, be of especial interest to the many thousand holders of older policies, and the promptness with which it is made will be particularly appreciated.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Times, August 10, 1889.

Professor Emil Pfeiderer, a native of Berlin, Germany, has taken out his naturalization papers in order to take command of C Battery brass band, which he intends to bring to a high state of efficiency.

At an extra meeting of members of the Knights of Pythias, held last evening, the question of procuring uniforms for a uniform rank was discussed. It is likely a portion of the uniforms will be manufactured in the city.

The Chilean ship Canonera Pilcomayo, four guns, arrived and anchored at Esquimalt this morning, 30 days from Honolulu. The vessel is on a cruise and will remain here ten days.

Since Her Royal Highness the Princess Louise visited and bathed in the waters of Towar Bay it has become quite a fashionable bathing resort. During the last two months it has presented a busy aspect, from 50 to 200 persons being seen there daily.

Mr. Dalton McCarthy, the famous Canadian lawyer, will visit the city next week, and probably deliver an address.

Venus, Not an Airship.—The beautiful planet, Venus, has been mistaken by many people lately for a German aircraft hovering over the Sooke hills.

Did Not Appear.—Robert McMillan estreated bail to the amount of $50 to-day when he failed to appear to answer to a charge of being found in a disorderly house.

Failed to Report.—For failing to report an auto accident in writing, Mrs. Roland Hill, the driver of the car, was this morning fined $5. Mrs. Hill stated that she did not know the law on this point, and thought she had merely to report to the nearest police officer. The magistrate informed her what the act required.

On Wrong Side.—Charged with driving his automobile on the wrong side of Douglas street, Thomas Cusack pleaded not guilty this morning in the police court. He expressed indignation that the city prosecutor was not able to proceed with the case, which was adjourned until tomorrow to allow of the production of an important witness.

Fought in Street.—A little crowd of about three or four hundred persons gathered in the street Saturday to witness an important and unheard fight between Sonan Singh and Jando Singh, two Hindus, who had been drinking in the police court this morning both pleaded guilty to fighting and were fined $10 apiece.

Metropolitan Ladies' Aid.—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Metropolitan church last week held a meeting at the summer residence of Mrs. Herbert T. Knott, Shoal Bay, Mrs. E. O. Weston, president of the society, occupying the chair. It was decided that definite arrangements in connection with the church rally which is to take place early in September, should be announced after the next meeting. The meeting was mostly devoted to the discussion of routine business.

"At Point of Death."—He is lying at the point of death and in his delirium talks constantly of his brothers who are believed to be in Victoria. This is part of a pathetic message received this morning by the Victoria police from Mrs. W. H. Morrison, of Glendale, California, who wants assisted to locate the relatives of a William John Finlayson, an old Victorian, who is dying in the hospital of Patton, Cal. According to the letter received by the police the brothers of the sick man are named George, Anthony and Kenneth, respectively.

Forest Branch Revenue.—The total amount of the forest revenue in British Columbia for the month of July was $219,491, of which license fees represented $166,024, and royalty $53,467. The sum of $14,062 has been received for the forest protection fund from timber licenses and leases, to which the provincial government adds an equal amount. The forest protection expenditure during the month was $45,990. There were 102,983,537 feet B. M. of sawlogs cut, 601,747 lineal feet of piles and poles and 37,474 cords of railway ties, shingle bolts and cordwood.

Held on Bail.—Frances Smith, alleged to be "keeper of a disorderly house on Turner street, and Lena Mills, Vera Vaughan and Grace Allen, alleged inmates, were remanded at the police court this morning until Wednesday at the instance of D. S. Tait, their counsel. The accused, Frances Smith, is out on bail of $500, while the others have paid over $50 apiece for the same purpose. There is another charge against Frances Smith, that of keeping liquor for the purpose of sale. To all these charges the several accused pleaded not guilty. The arrests were made by Detectives Turner and Siciliano.

POLICEMEN CALLED TO THEIR REGIMENTS

Commissioners Undertake to Hold Their Positions; Aldermen Consider Pay

The call to arms is being noticed in the civic service, and the principal business before the police commissioners at their meeting this morning was to authorize the chief of police to appoint temporary men in the places of eight patrolmen now with their regiments. So far two firemen have been summoned. Every city department presents a depleted appearance because of the continued mobilization of various units of the military arm.

When the police commissioners took up the question of paying the wages of the men called out, the mayor decided it should be dealt with together with the other cases before the finance committee of the city council this afternoon. At that meeting the whole principle of the payment of men called to the colors came under review. There was no problem as to the permanent civic force, who will be paid half salary, but with the outside men on construction, difficulties arose. The mayor took the view that the city should not hesitate with regard to any men who had dependents, either aged parents or families, but to others he felt different treatment might be accorded. The policemen called out will be paid the present month's full wages. Afterwards they will share equally with other city employees. Already the aldermen have given an undertaking that all positions will be held till the men return from the front, or from garrison duty.

The subject will be reported to the council this evening. There is not much business for the weekly session, as the telephone and bridge issues are not ripe for further report at this juncture. City Solicitor Robertson, who returned from his holiday to-day, will at once take up the letter of counsel with regard to the contract agreement, upon which Mr. Bodwell requires additional information.

This morning Mayor Stewart told the Times that a report on the financial situation and on the possibility of eliminating a number of items from the appropriations of the year, would be made to the city council from the finance committee. The report will be made in view of the suggestion from the manager of the Bank of British North America urging the council to practice every possible economy in public works.

At noon to-day, the closing hour, one tender had been received for the laying of steel pipe on concrete piers for the Northwest sewer outfall at Macaulay point, the bidders being Hutchison Brothers. It will be opened by the mayor in council this evening. The work has now reached the stage when the outfall may be finished, and some use made of the part constructed, this latter eventually depending on the completion of No. 1 tunnel.

BIG CROWDS SEEKING BARGAINS

Victoria's Largest Men's Outfitters Quits Business.

Attracted by the extraordinary bargains offered at The Hub, Johnson street, large crowds of bargain-seekers overwhelmed the premises all day Saturday until late in the evening.

The large staff of salespeople were unable to handle the crush, although working at high speed all the time. The Hub and numerous other stores this concern was operating throughout British Columbia were recently placed in financial difficulties, which necessitated the placing of trustees in charge to liquidate the stock for the creditors.

A huge sale was inaugurated in order to dispose of their entire high grade stock of men's wearing apparel, under which the fixtures will be offered for sale.

Guarding Water Supply.—In order adequately to guard the city's water supply from the designs of an enemy, a small force of militia from the 88th regiment has been placed under canvas at Parson's bridge. Sentries are on duty at this spot both day and night.

Carriage Builders' Picnic.—The Carriage Builders and Blacksmiths' Society of Victoria held its annual picnic Saturday. Leaving the city early in the morning conveyed by motor cars and charabans the picnicers went out to Cordova bay where they spent the day happily with sports, bathing and luncheon on the beach. Music was provided by a Scottish piper, and the event was made the more memorable by the perfect weather which graced the occasion.

Forest Fires Subsidizing.—Rains on Friday and Saturday in the Cranbrook and Kootenay Valley districts have assisted somewhat in subduing the forest fires which have been raging there for some weeks past. No estimate of the actual damage sustained by the forests is yet to hand, however, particularly in the case of the Jaffray fire which destroyed the telegraph wires and cut off communication from the district of the Bull River holocaust. The conditions in the Nelson and Kootenay district, generally, however, is reported to be much improved. In the Kamloops district, unfortunately, there seems to have been a fresh outbreak, reports of which are being awaited by the forestry department with anxiety.

MAKES PASSAGE FROM RUPERT IN 26 HOURS

Prince Rupert, of G. T. P. Fleet, Runs With Lights Covered; Record for Trip

Establishing what is believed to be a new record for the run between Prince Rupert and Vancouver, the G. T. P. steamer Prince Rupert, Capt. Duncan McKenzie, reached the Terminal City at 1 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, five hours ahead of her scheduled time for arriving. After her cargo had been discharged and her passengers landed, the fast three-stacker continued on to Seattle, arriving there yesterday morning. She will be up on the Sound until dawn from the war is over or the Canadian government orders her here for duty.

Only 26 hours were consumed by the Prince Rupert in coming down from Prince Rupert, her speed averaging very close to 18 knots an hour. Advice received from Vancouver say that Capt. McKenzie received orders by wireless to drive the ship south at top speed and to keep a sharp look out for anything in the shape of a German cruiser, which it was feared might have slipped into the inside passage in an attempt to demoralize coastwise shipping. It is also reported that on Friday night, the only night the ship was at sea coming south, the Rupert carried only her running lights, all the others being darkened. The passengers were informed of the change in the ordinary running of the ship, but showed no excitement. The Prince Rupert on her southbound trip usually passes the Prince George northbound in the vicinity of Bella Coola, but when she failed to come in sight the passengers felt that the war situation was serious.

It is understood that the time made by the Prince Rupert is about the fastest ever logged by a coasting vessel here. When Capt. Barney Johnson was on the Rupert he brought the ship down in a little over 27 hours, and Capt. George Robertson, when skipper of the Prince George, made a speedy run south with Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his party of just under 2 hours. The Prince Rupert has not been in dock for about six months, and her performance is looked upon as splendid. She used all her boilers and maintained a speed of nearly 18 knots.

The Prince Rupert will remain at anchor in Seattle. To-day for the first time in three years the G. T. P. did not have a Monday sailing out of this port for Prince Rupert. In the winter months the Thursday sailing is always dropped, but the Monday connection has been maintained with regularity.

SPECIAL WAR RISKS MAY ENCOURAGE TRADE

Ottawa, Aug. 10.—The Imperial authorities have worked out a plan of war risk insurance which is calculated to encourage trade during the war. The Imperial plan will apply to colonial risks.

In the scheme as announced, the Imperial government is co-operating with the War Risks Assurance Association of Shippers. The government under the plan will reinsure up to 80 per cent. all king's enemy risks assured by the association subject to certain conditions.

On voyages current at the outbreak of the war no additional premium would be charged for reinsurance. On voyages begun after the outbreak of the war the extra premium will be not more than 5 per cent. and not less than 1 per cent. the rate to be fixed by the government.

FISHING BOAT ON FIRE ONE DEAD, ANOTHER HURT

Bellingham, Wash., Aug. 10.—The seine boat Adriatic, owned by Andrew Barry, of Tacoma, was destroyed by fire at Lummi Island last night when a lantern caused the explosion of the gasoline tank. Visko Vlastica, an Austrian fisherman, was burned to death and Slavo Trutanich was painfully injured.

RED CROSS STEAMER IS READY TO LEAVE

Prince George Has Taken on Oil; More Bunks Are Fitted; May Go South

With a red cross flag flying from her foremast and a red cross painted on her centre funnel, the carpets in her saloon torn up and extra bunks fitted, and her whole hull reeking with the none to pleasant odor of anaesthetics, the Grand Trunk Pacific steamer Prince George, Capt. Donald, now lies at anchor in Esquimalt harbor ready to put to sea at a moment's notice. She was at the E. & N. oil tanks yesterday and filled up with oil and a full staff of doctors and nurses is on board in case the emergency arises.

The Prince George is ready to steam as far as Mexico if the occasion arises. Capt. Donald is master of the steamer, and with him is Chief Officer Naden. Both are deep water men. If the ship is ordered south she will carry a lieutenant of the royal navy to direct her operations. The steaming radius of the Prince George with one fill-up of oil is

BRAZILIAN COASTING SHIPS TO HELP OUT

British and German Ships Running Between Brazil and New York Withdrawn

New York, Aug. 10.—The Brazilian steamship company announced to-day that its fleet of seven vessels had been withdrawn from the coasting trade of South America and until further notice will ply between Brazil and New York. The ships fly the Brazilian flag. Arrangements for chartering several other vessels flying neutral flags, such as the Norwegian, are being made.

These vessels will also run between Brazil and New York on regular schedule, carrying freight and passengers.

It was said that the government of Brazil, on the representations of coffee, rubber and other business interests, have urged the company to divert its ships. With but one or two exceptions all the ships plying between South America and the United States are under either German or British flags, and consequently have been withdrawn.

The steamer Bernadina, due here to-day from Hamilton, Bernadina, has been ordered to remain in that port indefinitely, according to announcement made by the Quebec steamship company. Six hundred Americans were expected on the ship.

NEW COMOX SCHEDULE.

The new Comox schedule of the B. C. Coast Service goes into effect to-morrow night with the sailing of the steamer Charming. In the past she has been leaving on Monday at midnight, but the departure has been put back 24 hours.

Nippon Line Reports She Will Arrive To-morrow; Fourteen Days From Japan

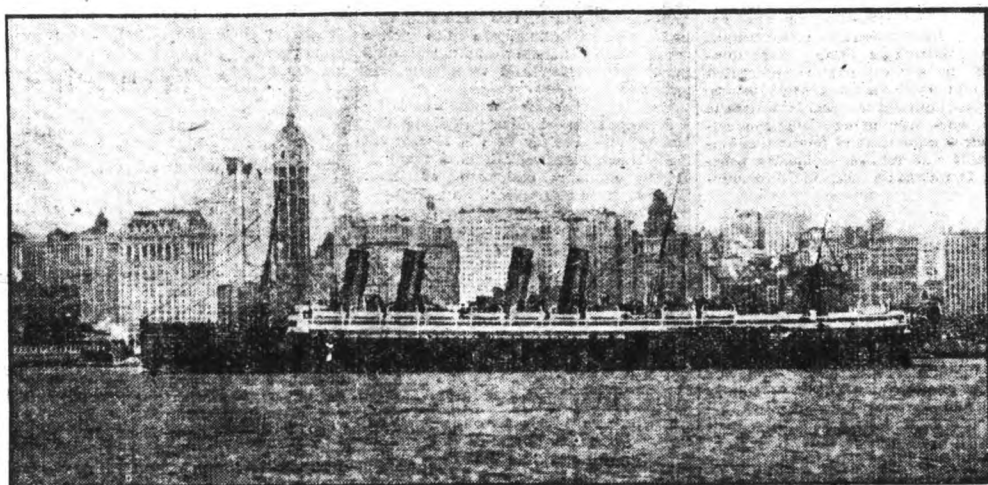

Owing to the British Columbia wireless stations having been closed down as a result of the European war, the inbound Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Shidzuoka Maru, Capt. Deguchi, had to send a radiogram to the local agents via the station at Astoria, Ore. It was then transmitted over the wire. The message gave the information that the Shidzuoka will arrive at William Head to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock with 30 passengers and 200 tons of Oriental merchandise for Victoria.

The Shidzuoka Maru is making a smart run from Yokohama of little better than 14 days. She is one of the fastest ships of the fleet, and can make a sea speed of 15 knots. On the Oriental run, however, the speed is kept down to under 13 knots. The Nippon liners at present are receiving the bulk of the silk cargoes owing to the withdrawal of the C. P. R. liners to do duty under orders from the Imperial admiralty.

The Japanese are showing that they can give the silk quick dispatch and have ordered all their ships to speed up a little. The Awa Maru, the last Nippon boat to arrive, made a much better run than the Shidzuoka.

Just as the Shidzuoka Maru comes up to her berth to-morrow afternoon the outbound Nippon liner Awa Maru, Capt. Hori, will warp up alongside the outer docks. This will be the first time in several years that two vessels of

VALUABLE PRIZE WHICH BRITISH CRUISER ESSEX HAS CAPTURED AND IS TOWING TO BERMUDA

NORTH GERMAN LLOYD LINER KRON PRINZ WILHELM

New York, Aug. 10.—From two sources to-day came a report to New York that the North German Lloyd liner Kron Prinz Wilhelm had been captured by the British cruiser Essex and taken to Bermuda as a prize. The liner Narragansett reported having heard a wireless message to this effect, and the manager of the Royal Mail Steam Packet, whose ships run to Bermuda, said he had a similar report.

The report was given some credence here in view of the announcement the Canadian government made at Ottawa last night that the Essex had advised the Bermuda station that she was bringing in a prize.

The name of the vessel was not disclosed in the government's announcement. Since the beginning of the war the Essex has been cruising between Bermuda and Halifax. The message which the Narragansett is said to have intercepted read as follows: "Bringing in Kron Prinz Wilhelm as a prize."

The manager of the Mail Steam Packet said he had every reason to believe the report was true. He would not say where he had heard it, but it was believed that the British consul in honor of the heir to the German throne was his authority.

Rigorous censorship is being enforced in Bermuda and no confirmation of the report could be obtained at Hamilton.

The Kron Prinz Wilhelm, named in honor of the heir to the German throne, was launched in May, 1902. She is 663 feet long, of 66-foot beam, 21,300 tons displacement, and 30,000 horse-power. She has a speed of 23 knots and at the time of her launching was one of the fastest and largest vessels afloat. She has accommodation for 1,715 passengers and a crew of 552.

TWENTY-ONE VESSELS TIED UP AT 'FRISCO

San Francisco, Aug. 10.—Twenty-one vessels of the belligerent nations, employing 2,500 men, are tied up here, afraid to move until the situation clears. Most of the men are signed for round trips, and supposedly entitled to pay for terms of their voyages.

GOVERNOR ARRIVES.

The Pacific Coast steamship Governor, Capt. Thomas, arrived in port this afternoon from San Diego, San Pedro and San Francisco after an uneventful passage. She brought north a large number of passengers and a full cargo.

Following the taking of the Prince George as a hospital ship, the Blue Funnel liner Proteus, Capt. Bradshaw, which was commandeered by William Head upon her arrival last Tuesday afternoon, has been released by the naval authorities. The Prince George will make a far better hospital ship than the Proteus would have been ready for such work.

NEUTRAL RIGHTS MUCH CURTAILED

FLAG TRANSFER IN WAR TIME DUBIOUS

Changes of Ownership During War Throws Onus of Proof of Good Faith on Ship

In the latter part of 1908 and early in 1909 there was held in London a conference between representatives of the leading maritime powers of the world for the purpose of revising the rules of naval warfare and settling definitely the status of international law on many points which had long been in dispute. The conference finished their work and signed the code adopted on February 26, 1909. The signatories to this convention were the United States, Great Britain, Germany, France, Austria-Hungary, the Netherlands, Spain, Italy, Russia and Japan. Although there has been no formal ratification of the rules by some of the signatories, it is probably true that any international tribunal, and probably any prize court, would hold that the rules correctly express the international law of to-day, in relation to naval warfare.

The portions of that convention which are of the largest immediate interest to the people of this country in the present condition of affairs are those which relate to the rights and the duties of neutrals; how far their trade can be limited and to what inconveniences they may be put.

The Subjects Covered.
The subjects covered by the convention are: Blockade in time of war, contraband of war, unneutral service, destruction of neutral prizes, transfers to neutral flag, enemy character, convoy, resistance to search and compensation.

This convention seeks to define exactly what goods may be considered absolutely contraband of war, conditional contraband of war and articles not contraband. Absolute contraband of war is defined to be: Arms of all kinds, including arms for sporting purposes and their distinctive component parts; projectiles, charges and cartridges of all kinds and their distinctive component parts; powder and explosives especially prepared for use in war; gun mountings, limber boxes, limbers, military wagons, file forges and their distinctive component parts; clothing and equipment of a distinctive military character; all kinds of harness of a distinctive military character; saddle, pack and draught animals suitable for use in war; articles of camp equipment and their distinctive component parts; armor plates, warships, including boats and their distinctive component parts of such nature that they can only be used on a vessel of war; implements and apparatus designed exclusively for the manufacture of munitions of war, for the manufacture or repair of arms, or war material for use on land or sea. It is also provided that articles exclusively for war may be added to the list of absolute contraband by a declaration which must be directed to the representative of other powers.

Conditional Contraband.
The conditional contraband list covers foodstuffs, cereals and grain, suitable for feeding animals; clothing, fabrics for clothing and boots and shoes, suitable for use in war; gold and silver in coin or bullion and paper money; vehicles of all kinds available for use in war, and their component parts; railway material, both fixed and rolling stock, and material for telegraphs, wireless telegraphs and telephones; vessels, craft and boats of all kinds; floating docks, parts of docks and their component parts; balloons and flying machines and their component parts together with accessories and articles recognizable as intended for use in connection with balloons and flying machines; fuel, lubricants, powder and explosives not specially prepared for use in war; barbed wire and implements for fixing and cutting the same; harness and shoeing material; harness and saddlery; field glasses, telescopes, chronometers and all kinds of nautical instruments. This list may also be added to by the giving of notice.

These conditional contraband articles are subject to capture if shown to be destined for the use of the armed forces or of a government department of the enemy state unless in this latter goods cannot in fact be used for the purposes of the war in progress.

Absolute contraband is subject to capture if it is shown to be destined for territory belonging to or occupied by the enemy. It is immaterial whether the carriage of the goods is direct or entails trans-shipment or a subsequent transfer of land.

Conditional contraband is not liable to capture save when it is found on board of a vessel bound for territory belonging to or occupied by the enemy or for the armed force of the enemy and when it is not to be discharged in any intervening neutral port.

Through Whole of Voyage.

A vessel carrying goods liable to capture as absolute or conditional contraband may be captured on the high seas or in the territorial waters of the belligerents throughout the whole of her voyage, even if she is to touch at a port of call before reaching the hostile destination. A vessel carrying contraband may be condemned if the contraband, reckoned by value, weight, volume or freight, forms more than half the cargo.

Under the heads of "unneutral service" it is provided that the neutral vessel is liable to condemnation if she is on a voyage specially undertaken with a view to the transportation of individual passengers who are embodied in the armed forces of the enemy, or with a view to the transmission of military intelligence; or if, to the knowledge of either the owner, the charterer or the master, she is transporting a military detachment of the enemy or one or more persons who, in the course of the voyage, directly assist the operations of the enemy.

Risky to Carry Reservists.

The provisions make it rather risky to transport any reservists home, save in the ships of their own country.

There is a general provision that a neutral vessel which has been captured may not be destroyed by the captor, which is modified by a rule that she may be destroyed if to attempt to carry her into port for condemnation before a prize court would involve danger to the capturing ship or to the success of the operations in which she is engaged at the time. If the capture of a neutral vessel is subsequently held to be invalid, though the act of destruction is held to be justifiable, the captor must pay compensation to the parties interested in place of the restitution to which they would have been entitled.

Must Be In Good Faith.

Transferring an enemy's vessel to a neutral flag immediately prior to the outbreak of a war is under suspicion. She is subject to capture if it is proved that the transfer was made to avoid the consequences of war. When the transfer is made after hostilities actually break out, the burden is on the owner to show that the transfer was made in absolute good faith. If the transfer is made on a voyage or in a blockaded port, or if a right to repurchase is reserved to the vendor, or if the requirements of the municipal law governing the right to fly the flag under which the vessel is sailing have not been fulfilled, the transfer is held void and the vessel likely to capture.

The neutral or enemy character of a vessel is determined by the flag which she is entitled to fly. The neutral or enemy character of goods found on board an enemy vessel is determined by the neutral or enemy character of the owner. In the absence of proof of the neutral character of goods found on board an enemy vessel they are presumed to be enemy goods.

Neutrals Exempt From Search.

Neutral vessels under national convoy are exempt from search. The commander of the convoy gives in writing, at the request of the commander of the belligerent warship all information as to the character of the vessels and their cargoes which could be obtained by search.

Forcible resistance to the legitimate exercise of the right of stoppage, search and capture involves in all cases the condemnation of the ship.

The rules governing blockades cover many pages. The principal rules are that it shall not extend beyond the coasts and ports belonging to the enemy; and in order to be binding it must be effective—maintained by a force sufficient to prevent access to the enemy's coast line.

These are the rules, in substance. While more liberal in some respects than the former claims of European powers, they are sufficiently drastic and limitative upon neutral rights to afford numerous opportunities for friction between this country, as a neutral trading with all of the belligerents, and the belligerent powers themselves.

In the glow of the late spring heartiness they sat and sat and sat. "You are going to say something awful," declared her fiancé. "I see it in your lovely eyes." "Yes, I am thinking of asking you something," responded the girl. "Won't you wear a rubber band around your head at night, so as to train your ears not to stick out?"

ALDERMANIC CONTEST.

To the Editor: Kindly permit a few words in reply to Mr. Wilson's plea for a meeting of aldermanic candidates.

Mr. Wilson suggested to me yesterday that a meeting be held. My view is that it would be impossible to get an attendance to justify the attempt during the feverish condition of the public mind at the present time, by reason of war's alarms; and I gathered that he rather agreed with me in that view, with a perceptible lingering and longing for an oratorical combat. The Johnson street bridge, I understand is yet awaiting a final agreement among the several parties interested, and could not be intelligently discussed by any unfamiliar with the details.

The work of putting telephone service wires underground in the business section, I understand, is merely being delayed, for some reason not made plain.

AUGUST 8.

FIELD AMBULANCE CORPS.

To the Editor:—The present crisis has demonstrated the fact that while we must keep a trained and well equipped militia force in existence, we must also be in a position to produce a trained ambulance section at short notice to look after those who are injured, in the defence of their country.

We have, I understand, a full army brigade in British Columbia, consisting of infantry, cavalry and artillery, but as yet we have no field ambulance corps.

We have of course stretcher bearers companies with the present regiment, but I think it would be much better if we had a well equipped ambulance corps, made up of one or more companies in each city of any importance in British Columbia. For the purpose of training these companies could be attached to existing infantry regiments and could come together once a year in camp as a full field ambulance corps. I am sure we have plenty of patriotic doctors who could be found to officer the corps.

We have a number of trained ambulance men in this city, and in view of the first aid classes which begin on Tuesday a nucleus for this corps could be found to form one or more companies in the city of Victoria.

In the present emergency a field ambulance corps would have come in very useful indeed, and such a corps would be a credit to themselves and to the training of the St. John's Ambulance association.

Hoping this matter will be taken up by the proper authorities.

NARROW-MINDED MEN.

To the Editor: In nearly every paper we read, both morning and evening, we see some mean and uncalled for insinuation referring to women in general and especially to those who are seeking a vote. It is really too bad of our men as a class to show themselves so narrow-minded where this great question is concerned. To a great number of women this is the greatest question of to-day (except for the cruel war), which, of course, concerns not only ourselves but our men also. The happiest day of my life shall come when women are granted their vote.

We do not want to boss or bully the men, as many of them seem to think, but we want to help them by using our influence at election time and try to put men in power who are going to work for the good of our people. We want to see that our children are brought up properly and that their poor little systems are free from the terrible curse of liquor and other foul diseases which are now so common. Oh, if the men and anti-suffrage women would stop to think what good that one thing would do, just to stop the sale of liquor, (and it can be done), I am sure there is not one of them with a heart, who would not dig in from to-day and say, "Well, the women will have my support!"

Repeatedly, within the last week, I have been stopped by members of the male sex and asked, "How about your suffragettes now? Are you going to war?" I am not afraid to say that there are as many women as there are men ready to sacrifice their lives for their country. I regret very much that I can be of so little service myself, but if going with the Red Cross nurses will help at all, I am ready to go when my country needs me.

If the married men go to war they can hardly expect their wives to go as well, unless the government supply nurses to take care of their families while they are away (perhaps never to return.)

The women have not been trained to fight or use arms and if we wanted to enlist with the men we should only be refused.

Our "worthy morning paper" rebuked the Times for what they considered an insult to Sir Richard McBride, but they say nothing of the insults we women have to contend with daily. Sir Richard represents very little in comparison to the women of the world. We want to help our country and can do so, but we would like to feel that we are appreciated at least.

I do hope you will find room in your valued paper for a few good words for the women, even if you have not space to publish my letter.

TESTING THE OCEAN FLYER.

Equipped with a third engine, and generally overhauled and, it is believed improved, the transatlantic flyer America is now being subjected to a series of trials calculated to test her capacity and general qualities to the utmost. Since it is inevitable that an over-ocean voyage shall be attempted, and since it is the general hope that such a voyage shall soon be successfully made, the thoroughness with which these trials and tests are being carried on cannot fail to be satisfying to a watching world. Thus far the boat has developed a lifting ability beyond anything that an aeroplane was thought capable of a short time ago. Her total load in the trial of last Thursday night was 2,600 pounds, about 300 pounds in excess of what was then supposed to be the actual requirement. In the trip of twenty-two miles on Friday night it was found that the vessel consumed gasoline at a rate considerably greater than had been contemplated. She was propelled by two of the three engines on this trip and carrying a much lighter load than on the previous night, but she used one gallon of gasoline to every four miles, showing that 300 gallons, considered sufficient to carry her across the Atlantic, would allow too small a margin of safety when she started on her 1,200-mile voyage. The importance of this and of other points developed by the trials lies in the fact that they have been developed in time to remedy miscalculations or faults. Glenn H. Curtiss, the builder, and Lieutenant Porte, the commander of the flyer, are taking the wise course of leaving nothing, so far as they are capable of seeing, to chance. It is well that they are not moved, or likely to be, by any exhibitions or expressions of popular impatience. There is ample time in which to make the voyage. It is not absolutely requisite that it shall be made in August; if postponement for a whole year is necessary to the success of the enterprise, then the waiting world can wait that length of time, or even much longer, without suffering any real loss. The America, it is to be devoutly hoped, will not fly for the fleeting hour or the passing day, but as Columbus sailed, for all the time that is to be—Christian Science Monitor.

The harbor of Rio de Janeiro has fifty miles of anchorage, and is said to be the finest in the world.

DECIDE TO ABANDON SCHEDULE

Victoria Club Has Not Heard From Mainland; Ill-Feeling Expressed at New Westminster

"We have received no word from Vancouver as to the continuation of the P. C. A. L. A. and our club will discontinue its practice work until we hear from the mainland," was the statement of Dr. G. A. B. Hall, president of the Victoria lacrosse club, this morning. The Vancouver club cancelled its game with Victoria at Oak Bay on Saturday because of a number of its players being called to military duty, and there is every probability of the Victoria club being crippled in a like manner. It is possible that a meeting of the league will be called shortly to discuss the question of abandoning further games this season. Westminster scribes are up in arms at the postponement of the games and the following from a Royal City sport sheet tells of the feeling in the city by the Fraser:

"Messrs. Oppenheimer and Clark, the two principal officers of the V. A. C. Mann cup team, and formerly the leaders in the Vancouver lacrosse venture, now defunct, are responsible for the postponement of the scheduled game between V. A. C. and Victoria. This information was imparted yesterday by one of the members of the team, who stated that even Hec Fowler, manager of the boys, was at a loss to discover the reason of the postponement. This player intimated that so far as he could learn no member of the team belonged to the Vancouver militia although he did admit that several were spending their vacation at one of the summer resorts and would not listen to any appeals of the management to return in time to play the scheduled game.

"That there is war in the camp of the V. A. C. was demonstrated on Saturday when Fowler, the manager, asked Fred Lynch to officiate while the players refused this move and prepared for George Tuck, a member of the team, to referee."

LOCAL STARS WILL ### GO AFTER TITLES

Godfrey Sets Up New Record for Through-Victoria Swim; to Compete at Vancouver

Not only will Champion Jack McNeill complete in the sprints at Vancouver on Saturday, but Lou Godfrey, Victoria's phenomenal swimmer, has stated that he will enter for the hundred-yard title also. Victoria is almost sure to finish one, two, with this pair in action, and the locals also hope to defend their relay championship, which they won last year at the carnival swimming meet. The Victoria swimmers will be picked this week for the relay team, but Godfrey and McNeill are assured of their places on the team. The local swimmers intend leaving on Friday night for the mainland.

Lou Godfrey more than fulfilled the prediction made in the Times last week as to his winning the Through-Victoria swim. He smashed all former records for the course, covering the three miles in one hour, thirteen minutes and two-fifths of a second. This is almost eight minutes ahead of the record set last year by Frank Cooper, of Sidney, and the Victoria star was just as fresh when he finished as at the start. Godfrey used the crawl stroke for the entire distance and this in itself is a remarkable feat. Miss Madge Griffin was fourth, with Mrs. Ivy Bell in fifth place. The ladies showed remarkable staying power, outlasting a number of their male opponents who were forced to leave the water.

Godfrey took the lead from the start and was never in danger of losing the racing, his machine-like strokes soon sending him far out in front. Jack McNeill stayed with the pace-maker until the half-way mark, when his strength gave out and he was forced to leave the water, while Frank Cooper, of Sidney, who won last year's event, was well up with the leaders. Godfrey maintained his tremendous pace to the finish, being warmly greeted as he climbed on the float at the Gorge bridge. McAdam, Balnave, Williams and Sherwood, were forced to leave the water at different periods. The order of finish was as follows: 1, L. Godfrey; 2, F. Cooper; 3, W. T. Stanton; 4, Miss Madge Griffin; 5, Ivy Bell; 6, D. McKinnon.

W. J. Shortt presented the Matsun cup to Mr. Godfrey at the conclusion of the swim, while the Short, Hill & Duncan trophy was presented to Miss Griffin. Messrs. Cooper and Stanton were also rewarded for their efforts.

BASEBALL TOUR OF BIG LEAGUE TEAMS

Chicago, Aug. 10.—A tour of South America this winter by the Chicago American league baseball team is contemplated by Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the club.

Comiskey probably will try to arrange for the White Sox to be accompanied by the New York Nationals, although Comiskey will not state whether he and John McGraw, manager of the Giants have discussed details.

"I don't care whether the trip pays or not," Comiskey says. "I want to show baseball to all the people of the earth. After South America, it should be Africa, and then we will have shown the sport to every one."

Providence, R.I., Aug. 10.—Bill Bailey, a pitcher of the Providence International team, went over to the Baltimore Federal league club yesterday. Bailey has played here two seasons. He was formerly with the Detroit and St. Louis American league teams.

A select field was entered in the 2:04 pace, $10,000, and the 2:08 trot, for a similar purse, had fourteen entries.

REMARKED ON THE SIDE

European War Hurts the Boxing Game.

Not only has it been necessary to abandon the many bouts that were scheduled to take place in Paris and London this month, but news has been sent out that the American boxers in Australia have decided to return to their homes because of the outbreak of war. The Australians are so interested in the troops that they are going to send to the help of the motherland that they will not even think of a fight in these troublesome times. There are a number of American boxers in France and Germany now who will be unable to get back home until after the war, so that the pugilistic game will receive somewhat of a setback until peace once more reigns throughout Europe.

Victoria's Ball Team is Setting a Wonderful Pace.

With the possible exception of the Tacoma club, there is not a team in the Northwestern league that is setting the pace that the Victoria team has shown in the last two months. True the Bees had one bad week at Vancouver, but they have been cleaning up the different series with pleasing regularity of late. The great improvement in the batting of the team and the return to form of the twirlers accounts for the vast improvement in the all-round work of the team. Owner Kingham was heavily handicapped by his poor start this year, but the team is traveling at a clip right now that shows its class as one of the real first division clubs. The manner in which it met the Seattle club during the past week shows that the Bees must be reckoned with from now on.

CRICKET WEEK TO ### BE CARRIED OUT

J. W. D. York Bats in Splendid Style Against Albion Bowlers

Unless it is absolutely necessary to postpone the games, the programme for the annual cricket week under the auspices of the Pacific Coast Cricket association will be carried out as in the past. This was decided upon at a meeting of the Cricket association which was held on Saturday night. The tournament is to open on August 24 and close on August 29. A meeting will be held at the Balmoral hotel on Friday night, when further arrangements will be completed. Seattle will send over a strong eleven, and the following clubs have entered: Howard C. C., New Westminster C. C., Rockland Point C. C., Seattle C. C., Cowichan C. C. (the holders of the cup), and the following Victoria clubs, Victoria C. C., Oak Bay C. C., the Albion C. C., and the University Incognito. Two clubs are still doubtful, the Garrison and Nanaimo, but it is hoped that both these may find it possible to send teams.

The grounds that have been secured for the week are the Jubilee hospital, the University school and the Albion ground at Beacon Hill park. The matches are all one-day and last from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. Victoria defeated Albion in an interesting match, the scores being:

Nationals ran up a new record for Canadian clubs Saturday when they scored their thirtieth straight victory in the "Big Four" series, piling up 27 goals against 8 by the Torontos. To date they have scored 217 goals, an average of 17 goals per match. The fact that the eastern teams play with ten men a side and the fields are shorter accounts for the heavy scoring in the "Big Four" matches.

In the N. L. U. the Rosedales, of Toronto, continue to show the way. Saturday they scored their ninth straight victory. They will come to the coast next month to play for the Minto cup.

MORAN RELEASED BY VICTORIA

BEES LOSE GAME TO SEATTLE 3-2

Umpire Burnside Gave Local Club Worst of Decision Yesterday; Driscoll to Play Right Field

Pat Moran, Victoria outfielder, was handed his release by Owner Kingham last night, and Babe Driscoll will in future cavort about right field. The Victoria club returned this morning for a two-day series with Vancouver and Owner Kingham stated that while the team is now down to fifteen players, he is not yet through, and an important trade may be looked for in a day or two. Moran's release was justified in view of the fact that he was not hitting .200. Driscoll's addition to the team will give Victoria an outfield that will hit better than .300 as a whole. Pitcher Hanson is the latest addition to the hurling squad, and he will take his regular turn on the slab.

A decision by Umpire Burnside at third base yesterday robbed Victoria of a tie game with Seattle, the arbiter waving Calvo out when he had beaten a relayed throw from the outfield by several feet. Lamb followed with a single and Wilhoit easily scored from second, but with Calvo declared out, the chances of tying up the game were lost. It was a tough game for Narveson to drop, the Seattle team getting the long end of a 3 to 2 score. Ballard broke even with Spokane on the day, advancing a few points, while Tacoma dropped one to Vancouver, the Bees retaining their lead for fourth place.

Victoria took the series from Seattle, winning four of the seven games.

PETER TURNER AGAIN WINS CLAYTON CUP

At the Victoria lawn bowling greens on Saturday afternoon the final in the Clayton cup competition was played, in which Peter Turner defeated C. Marshall by 18 to 13 in an interesting game. The Clayton cup was presented to the club by A. A. Clayton in 1911 for singles, to be won for three years in succession before becoming the absolute property of the winner. One of the peculiar incidents of this cup is the fact that it has never been won by any player outside of the Times block. It was won in 1911 by R. Dunn, editor of the Times. In 1912 the winner was B. H. John, of 201 Times block, and in 1913 and 1914 the winner was Peter Turner, of 201 Times block.

The Shortt, Hill & Duncan cup competition is well under way and will be completed before the end of this month. The final game in the McKenzie cup competition was played on Saturday afternoon when G. Mowat and Mr. Warnicker defeated R. Dowdsell and W. Melville by 21 to 20 in a splendid game. Mowat and Warnicker now play J. Yates and T. M. Sturgess for possession of the cup.

FIELD DAY WILL BE HELD AT CENTRAL PARK

A revised list of events for the children's field day to be held on September 12 will be given later. Festival day will be given by the girls at Beacon Hill on September 5. Folk dances and drills will be a prominent feature of the programme for this.

The tests for both boys and girls will be held August 29.

The Vancouver playgrounds' contingent will play Victoria in baseball on August 22 at the Royal Athletic park if arrangements can be made for the use of that ground.

On Saturday in the local playgrounds' baseball series the Hillside defeated the Rectors, 11 to 9, at Central park. On Friday the Athletics defeated the Hills at Beacon Hill 17 to 13.

DIBBLE WINNER OF SCULLING HONORS

Philadelphia, Aug. 10.—The Duluth Boat club champion senior eight-oared shell retained its title Saturday by defeating the Argonauts of Toronto by half a length in 6:27 2-5 in the feature race of the forty-second annual regatta of the National association of Amateur Canoeists, rowed over the mile and a quarter straightaway course on the Schuylkill river. New York finished third, a quarter of a length ahead of Western, but four lengths back of Duluth and the Argonauts.

Duluth also won the intermediate four-oared race from the Argonauts by three lengths. No time was taken because of a foul at the quarter-mile mark between the Argonauts and Duluth, a restart being necessary.

Sculling Champion Robert Dibble, of

Toronto, again won the championship, beating Kelly, of Philadelphia, by half a length.

BATTING LEADERS

Joe Wilhoit, of the Victoria team, and Frisk, of Spokane, lead the hitters of the Northwestern league. Holke made the biggest gain during the past week while Wilhoit fell a few points lower than his average of the last week. Emil Frisk, of Spokane, is a close second, only one point behind the leader.

BURMAN A WINNER.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 10.—"Wild Bob" Burman won the second fifty-mile race here yesterday and thereby took first place in the 100-mile sweepstakes. Burman twice passed all his competitors and covered the fifty miles in 48 minutes, 10 seconds, without a mishap.

Louis Disbrow, who on Saturday broke two world's records for dirt tracks, won the five-mile match in 4 minutes 21 seconds.

AUSTRALIANS DEFAULT TO ENGLISH TEAM

Boston, Aug. 10.—Having gained the right to play America next week in the challenge round for the Davis cup, the Australian team defaulted the two single matches which were to have been played with the British Isles team, Saturday. This left the finals between the two teams 3-2 in favor of the Australians. The defaults were those of N. E. Brookes to A. F. Lowe and A. F. Wilding to J. C. Parke.

The other two members of the Australian team, S. N. Doust and A. W. Dunlop, played exhibition games with Lowe and Parke, but the day was far too sultry for fast tennis. Lowe won the first match of his set with Doust, 6-4, and had dropped the second 4-6 when, with the games seven all in the third set, the Australian threw down his racquet and declared that he had enough.

Then Parke and Dunlop took the court, but neither felt like tennis, Parke winning about as he pleased, 6-0, 7-5, 6-3.

Under the conditions governing the cup, substitutions may be made if a player is incapacitated through illness, or otherwise of an unavoidable nature. Captain Brookes gave none of these reasons for withdrawing himself and Wilding, so both matches were officially declared defaulted by the referee, with the approval, however, of Brookes.

TC-DAY IN PUGILISTIC ANNALS

1887.—Grover Hayes, Irish-American lightweight, born in Chicago. The "Butler" began fighting in 1903, and within three years fought nearly a hundred battles, losing but two decisions. Leach Cross and Ray Bronson were among his victims. He had his first experience of being knocked out in 1908, when Freddie Weeks put over the soporific punch in the third inning. He lost to Matty Baldwin in 1908, and to Jim Driscoll, the little Welshman, the following year. In 1910 he defeated Dick Hyland, but lost to Ray Bronson, the Hoosier boxer. In 1911 he knocked out Tommy Murphy at Chattanooga, but a little later, in his first 20-round bout, he was defeated by Joe Mandot at New Orleans. In 1912 he went to Australia, but stayed only long enough to be whipped by Jack Read. Early this year, at Oakland, he fought a draw with Joe Azevedo, the hard-hitting Portuguese lad.

1746.—Broughton's rules, first boxing code, adopted by English pugilists.

1852.—Young Mike Donovan, Irish-American middleweight, born in New York.

1899.—Doc Fitzsimmons knocked out Gus Ruhlin in 6th round at New York.

1900.—Bok Fitzsimmons knocked out Gus Ruhlin in 4 minutes 21 seconds.

The Tendencies in New Fall Coat Styles

Advices from our buyers in the East are to the effect that materials most favored for Coatings this Fall, are zibelines, wool velours, chinchillas and fabrics giving the effect of warmth. Novelty checks, small plaids and Scotch mixtures are also employed to a considerable extent. Velours, velvet and fur fabrics are also well thought of for separate garments. The color tendency is very largely for soft, dark tones.

There are really two distinct types of coats. One shows the cape influence and is made very full in the back or has a cape. The other embodies the semi-fitted effect, being rather close fitting above the waist and having the fullness in the skirt section. As the season advances there is a distinct tendency to favor longer garments. Thus, seven-eighths and full length coats are expected to receive considerable recognition. This is due largely to the number of long coats and long tunics shown in the suits and dresses, manufacturers feeling that consumers will desire separate coats that will cover them and not break the long regular figure line.

THE LONGEST DAY.

By Alexander Louis Farmer.

There is a sadness in the longest day—We feel, somewhat, the year has seen his best.

He seems to look around, then make his way, With shortening breath, down to his snow-wrapped rest.

But 'tis not so—his best is yet to be. When his child, Autumn, shall with gifts abound;

And when, at happy Yule-tide, we shall see His snow-white head with wreaths of holly crowned.

Then tell me not that life's best part is gone, Because the high noon of the day is here—

There is a beauty in the twilight deep. One has not felt at any hour since dawn.

And what is there for tired man to fear. When Night comes in with stars and dreams and sleep?

He was a bachelor himself, but he thought all luxuries ought to be taxed, and he was perfectly prepared to pay his share for a luxury which had enjoyed so happily so long.—Mr. Rawlinson, M.P.

There is no human being who, having both passions and thoughts, does not think in consequence of his passions—does not find images rising in his mind which soothe the passion with hope or sting it with dread.—George Eliot.

The pipe, 150 miles in length, by which Mr. Churchill proposes to bring petroleum from the Anglo-Persian oil wells to the sea, is short compared with the pipeline which now connects Baku, on the Caspian sea, with Batoum, on the Black sea, a distance of 550 miles. Over 400 million gallons of oil pass through this gigantic pipe each year.

ROTTEN ROW BEGINS TO MERIT ITS NAME

No Longer Does One See Health, Wealth and Luxury There

Time was when Rotten Row in the season was a sight for the gods. Then, as Henry James put it in his "Lady Barbara," the Row was "the great exhibition of English wealth, health, luxury and leisure . . . all striking, all pictorial . . . a great composition."

Gone now are the triple row of stately carriages, the bright cavalry of fashion, those promenading belles, too, of the line.

"The women" (it is Henry James again) had tight little bonnets and still lighter little knots of hair. Their rounded chins rested on a close swathing of lace, or in some cases of silver chains and circles. They had flat backs and small waists. They walked slowly with their elbows out, carrying vast parasols, and turning their heads very little to the right or the left. There was a general look of successful development. The men had an air more elaborately decorative.

Row Man of the Old Days.

Here is our ancient Row man, an Olympian indeed. He sat beside his nectar and the thunder clouds were furred. Or, at least, as he sat apparently careless, he made cunning arrangements for "nectar" to come, and was booked for many a fashionable feast. There was diplomacy and intrigue and security and supremacy in the Row of those days. It was the apotheosis of aristocratic man.

Where now is that Row man and where the Gibbon to chronicle his fall? Even his successor survives only as an exception to the motley rule. The real Row man signed his abdication when he discarded his coronation robes. Where now are his glossy "top hat," his high white collar—emblem of eminence—his slim frock coat (now "middle class"), his large, fragrant "button-hole," that sceptre of a stick, that prevalent air of stiff loftiness which used to proclaim dominion? The "nut" will have none of them, for he rejects restraints.

He rejoices in what tailors term a "lounge suit." He wears a "straw" or "bowler," according to the caprice of our so-called climate. Sometimes he even declines upon brown brogues. He might almost be on the river—though I suppose he would scarcely descend to the neighboring Serpentine. These sacred precincts inspire no awe. For him town has no sanctity. He does not recognize its right (or even his own) to any allegiance—there is nothing venerable about his youth.

What a medley now!

What a medley surrounds him! His patrician predecessor—of the years before golf was almighty—would never believe it. It belongs to a "democratic" age which plays at being equal and advertises "equality" as quality—to a fascinating age, none the less, one of infinitely varied interest. For now at last the audience is on the stage and sees itself act. Once "somebody" was in the Row, now it is "nobody." Really, however, it is everybody, for most barriers are broken down.

Here on one bench are all the varieties which the nursery rhyme bids us tick off on our fingers. Here too are hats and garments of every description and every nation—we might be in a colossal sloop clothes' store. The shabby smart, the smart shabby alternate with the rag dollies and dandified slovenly, smoking pipes. Pipes! Papers! The serene, imperious Victorian Row man would have a fit.

But the riders have changed! What would the old Row man have thought of ladies riding straddle in half masculine guise. It is more like a circus. But after all, if we have lost caste, says an old fogey writing to the Times, we have found fun. That must be the solace.

A certain good-looking portrait painter got a commission to paint the portrait of a rich city magnate. He improvised a studio down at his country place in Kent, and spent about a couple of months on the job. One day he said to the purse-proud money-bags: "I think your countenance, sir, most noble. Is there any particular expression you would like to wear in this picture?" "Well, since you ask it, there is. I particularly want a certain expression. By the way, have you met my daughter?" "Yes," replied the artist. "A charming girl, eh?" "Very." "I'm glad you think so. I've spent a lot of money on that girl. Well, supposing you came to me and asked my consent to marry her?" "Oh," cried the painter. The magnate smiled. "Perhaps you don't quite follow me. At all events, the expression I want to wear in this picture is the expression you would see on my face on such an occasion. It is the only illustration I can think of—a sort of combination of disgust, standoffishness, anger, and you-can't-come-it-over-me-my-boy look. You see, I desire to place this portrait in the ante-room of my city office to scare away money-seekers, and it occurred to me—" "I see," said the artist. "I will try and realise your idea. Perhaps you can help me. Can you oblige me with a sample of one of those expressions?" The magnate beamed. "No, young man. I'm much too good-natured to-day. I've just floated two matters. Maybe I can help you. As a matter of fact, Sir Jabez, I fell in love with your daughter at first sight. I asked her to marry me, she consented, and we were married at a registry office yesterday." And as the millionaire struggled with his feelings the painter added: "Ah, thanks. Might I ask you to keep that expression as long as possible. The picture is bound to be a success."

What Our Competitors Say

We believe in the good old maxim, "Mind your own business," and make it a rule never to refer to our competitors in our advertisements, but the following extracts from recent advertisements of a leading local merchant are such a vindication of our regular policy that we feel we are quite justified in reproducing them:

"Colonist," June 4th:—"We have purchased the entire collection of samples from this manufacturer. . . . Being sample garments one can rest assured that the styles must be of the very newest and the work of the best. We offer them at lower prices than we ourselves could buy them from the manufacturer in the ordinary way."

"Colonist," Aug. 2nd:—"It may be of special interest to you to know that we have quite a number of Manufacturers' Sample Fall Coats, and though they're the very newest and most desirable garments, we bought them at sample prices and marked them accordingly."

"Times," Aug. 7th:—"Ladies Sample Fall Coats, Wonderful Values. . . . These were manufacturers' samples bought at a reduction, and we have marked them at the same generous reduction."

They May Get Sample Garments Sometimes

But We Sell Them ALL THE TIME.

These advertisements are a candid admission that SAMPLE GARMENTS are the most perfect in style and materials, and are at the same time VERY MUCH LOWER IN PRICE.

Then why not choose your FALL SUIT from our splendid array of BEAUTIFUL SAMPLES, at prices which are admitted, even by our competitors, to be away below the ordinary charges?

GERMANY CAN CALL ON 18,000,000 MEN

French Successes Are Only Skirmishes According to German Point of View

Food for thought is found in the deductions drawn by Germans in Victoria from the reports of the progress of the war which they have read in Canadian and American papers. They do not find them so discouraging as from the British point of view they appear to be.

In the first place they say that the news they are getting is all from their enemies' camps and consequently likely to be colored favorably to them. The reports of French successes they attribute to the same impulsive disposition which prompted the French in 1870 to call every little skirmish a battle and a great victory. According to their own newspapers in 1870 the French won a series of great victories in the first few weeks of the war, but when the real fighting began there was a different story.

The impulsive nature of the French is being relied on by the German strategists, and the fact that little opposition was met at Altkirch and Muelhausen was designed to draw them well into Alsace-Lorraine, where the Germans knew the French would be eager to strike. The German idea is then to come across Belgium and Luxembourg and outflank the French army of the south.

The reported repulse at Liege the Germans do not take much stock in. It took 30 days to win Metz, and Liege is a well fortified city, not to be taken in a single assault. The heavy losses were to be expected in an attack on a fortress.

"What is 25,000 men?" they exclaim. "Germany has an army of 5,000,000 without calling on a first reserve. Before the war is over they will have 18,000,000 fighting men in the field. Conscripted men are still going on and instead of three years' training they will give them only six months. A loss of 25,000 is not serious."

An attack on a fortress, the Germans say, is not a battle. They are awaiting eagerly the first report of a conflict in the open, when several hundred thousand men will clash in a battle on equal terms. That is where they expect the superiority of the German will show. For the German has already shown that he is absolutely fearless and determined. Men who will march across exploding mines and keep on marching are men to be reckoned with in a prolonged battle in the open. They expect news of feats of French valor at the opening of the battle, but they look for the tremendous dogged determination of the Germans to win for them.

Turning to the naval situation, they state that the bottling of Germany's fleet is not as important a strategic move as the foreign nations believe. Germany is self-sustaining in food products and even in time of peace the women and children till the fields while the men work at a trade.

Another circumstance they point out is that naval battles in the past have not been won by numbers of ships. Britain's glory has been her victories with small fleets over great ones. They assert this, not to claim that there is any advantage in being outnumbered, but to show that the issue is an open one.

As to the superiority of French guns over German ones, they say that Germans have always been noted for their tremendous advances in science, much more so than the French, and the idea of French superiority in this respect is to them ridiculous.

While these arguments may not convince British or French subjects that Germany will inevitably win the war, there is sufficient in them to indicate that the struggle will not be a short one.

There is a movement among the Boers of South Africa to have an edition of the Bible in their own patois, the "Taal." At present they read the Bible in the pure Dutch of Holland.

To keep Britain in the van of the nations, her rising generation must be not only equal to, but better than, their ancestors.—Sir George Reid.

They would get lots of children in the playgrounds if they would spend money on a fiddler or an organ and let the children dance.—Rev. Stewart Headlam.

CARNIVAL ACCOUNTS.

To the Editor.—It is to be hoped that the city council will not fall in its duty to the good name of the city in the matter of remunerating those creditors of the unfortunate Carnival association who have remained until the present unpaid.

That the city is morally bound to pay the outstanding bills is beyond question, and no amount of argument or pleas of economy will remove that obligation.

First, the reputation of Victoria is at stake; several accounts owing being due to creditors who are not residents of this city. Further, those local merchants, etc., to whom money is owing, without exception, did the work charged for on a competitive price basis. Also, without exception, they contributed liberally in money, time and in some instances stock, to help make a success of a movement in which all were interested and which the city officially was backing. In not a few cases the money owing to these men represents funds paid long since out of their own pockets to defray legitimate expenses incurred by responsible Carnival association committees. In no instance, even if the accounts are paid in full now, can they fail to lose at least some money.

Present conditions are such that these men urgently require all the funds they can secure. Is it reasonable that the city council should forswear its moral obligation, prejudice the city's name and make these citizens victims of a mistaken economy? JUSTICE.

"Taking all these things into consideration, it does not seem possible to me that Germany can hold out for more than a few months. The Kaiser's war machine has involved her to such an extent that she must either gain all or lose practically everything, and so far as is known, she has not prepared sufficiently in the matter of food supplies to resist the inroads of a prolonged war. It is known she has large supplies of wheat almost ready to harvest in the south and west of the empire. Also there are buckwheat, millet, spelt and maize raised in the most precarious territory. The large grazing lands support more than enough livestock for Germany's needs, and the fisheries have been carefully fostered for many years.

"But the staple need of every country is its grain, and a shortage of supply means suffering and final surrender. Germany's position, from the vantage of her food supplies, is getting more and more precarious as the days go by. She will shortly, I believe, pay the penalty of being a purely industrial people, who find no manufacture so profitable and compelling that they cannot afford their time for the primal avocation of all mankind—the tilling of the soil.

"For many years Germany has developed more from an industrial point of view than any other country in the world. She has been buoyed up by a thrifty, hard working people, whose talent for industrial work is as great as the British, and even more radical than the American. But this very virtue has been inimical to her chances in the present campaign, since not all the mechanical genius in the world can manufacture the staple necessities of life from nothing.

"The Triple Entente, however, is in an altogether different state. In the case of each country in the Entente the food sources are open and unimpairable, except under the most improbable (and at the present time apparently impossible) circumstances. Britain has the vast cereal wealth of America to draw from, an earnestness of which is Canada's magnificent grain gift to the motherland. So long as Britain controls the North Sea with her navy and there is every hope that she will long be able to accomplish this, there is no fear of either Belgium or France feeling very acutely one of the greatest perils of war. Russia is absolutely self-contained. Her peasantry may have lived for years in the darkness of ignorance, but they have nevertheless used to the economic barren tundra for the purpose of grain growing, which is now to prove 'the bone and sinew of a mighty nation.'

"Briefly," concluded Mr. Anstie, "those are my reasons for believing that the war will not last long. Britain may have her reverses. What nation has not. But I believe that her mighty fleet, which is her pride and her strength, will be able to keep open, in this hour of need, the avenues by which the mother country receives her supplies."

Canada's wheat exports last year reached the tremendous total of 129,950,000 bushels as compared with 121,938,000 from Russia. Argentina's export was only 102,275,500 bushels, while the United States exported 99,410,000.

BELIEVES WAR WILL LAST FEW MONTHS

London Visitor Reviews Con- ditions Under Which In- volved Nations Exist

OPINION IS GERMANY WILL SOON FALL SHORT

People Mostly Industrial and Not Agricultural in Their Occupations

"In my opinion the great European war cannot last many months."

This view was expressed this morning by A. F. Anstie, a London business man, who is in Victoria for a few days on a tour of Canada. He addressed his reasons for his opinion as follows:

"For many years past now, with her rapidly growing population, Germany has been unable to produce enough cereals to supply her people with bread. In fact the root of the present war seems to me to lie at the idea that the Fatherland must push out to find room for her children. While her intensive cultivation is high, and practically two-thirds of the soil is arable land, Germany still imports grain to the extent of over five millions of tons every year to supply the deficiency which she feels.

"This source of supply, by sea at any rate, is now cut off. It is inconceivable that Britain will allow Germany's ships to approach from the North Sea to bring food, and of course her annual importation from Russia is now taken from her. Nor will Austria, which is a highly productive cereal country, be able to lend much aid considering that she herself appears likely to be involved in a long and terrible campaign in which her national life is endangered.

"Taking all these things into consideration, it does not seem possible to me that Germany can hold out for more than a few months. The Kaiser's war machine has involved her to such an extent that she must either gain all or lose practically everything, and so far as is known, she has not prepared sufficiently in the matter of food supplies to resist the inroads of a prolonged war. It is known she has large supplies of wheat almost ready to harvest in the south and west of the empire. Also there are buckwheat, millet, spelt and maize raised in the most precarious territory. The large grazing lands support more than enough livestock for Germany's needs, and the fisheries have been carefully fostered for many years.

COL. ROGERS PASSES FUNERAL HELD TO-DAY

Former Postmaster of Peterborough Died at Ripe Age; Long Career in Militia

The funeral of the late Col. Henry C. Rogers took place this morning from the residence of G. H. Barnard, M. P., Rockland avenue, the cortege leaving the house at 11 o'clock and arriving at St. John's church at 11:30. The church was crowded, most of the leading society and professional classes of the city being noticed among the congregation. The service was conducted by the Very Rev. Dean Doull, Revs. F. H. Fatt and William Barton, the selected hymns being "Abide With Me" and "Lead Kindly Light."

The solemn message of the nineteenth psalm was impressively given. The pallbearers who bore the casket to the hearse were old friends of the deceased, and included Colonels Lawson, Wadmore, A. W. Jones, Majors Ridgway Wilson and Walsh, and Hon. D. M. Eberts, K. C., M. P. P. Interment subsequently took place at Ross Bay cemetery. A very large number of floral tributes, some of them from public bodies with which the deceased had been connected, bore tribute to the high respect in which he was held by his contemporary generation.

The late Col. Henry C. Rogers, who died suddenly at the summer residence of his daughter, Mrs. Harold B. Robertson, on Friday when visiting Shawanigan lake, was a well-known figure in the city, and at all patriotic demonstrations, being particularly regular in his attendance at gatherings of the Canadian club. He came from Peterborough in 1909 to join his children, most of whom were already settled here, being accompanied by Mrs. Rogers, who died about one year ago. Since then he had made Victoria his home.

His last act was a patriotic one, the bidding farewell to a son, Capt. G. H. Rogers, who left on the last Empress to sail for India to join his regiment, the 11th Rajputs, Indian army.

The colonel was born in Grafton, Ontario, on July 16, 1839, and as a young man went to Peterborough, where he was engaged in commercial pursuits till his appointment as postmaster, which office he held for 37 years, retiring in 1909. He joined the militia as a young man, and with his regiment, the Peterborough Rifle company, he served as lieutenant at the time of the Fenian raid.

He was appointed captain of No. 1 company of the 57th Battalion of Infantry when it was organized, holding the captaincy till 1872, when he retired with the rank of major. He next organized C troop of the Third Canadian Dragoons, ranking as captain, and rising to lieutenant-colonel. In 1895 he assumed command of the regiment, retiring four years later when he reached the age limit. He received Fenian raid and long service medals. The deceased gentleman was very favorably known during his residence in Victoria as a genial and courteous friend, and his decease will be sincerely mourned by many. He had spent the summer largely at Shawanigan lake with his daughter and son-in-law.

The colonel is survived by five sons and two daughters: Mrs. G. H. Barnard and Mrs. Harold Robertson, H. F. Rogers, of London, England, Dr. H. B. Rogers, of this city, Major H. S. Rogers, of Victoria, D. M. Rogers, the well-known realty man, who is now in London, England, and Capt. G. H. Rogers, of the Indian army, to whom reference has already been made.

It is hoped that as a result of the gathering it may be possible to know just what attitude the government takes on the matter, and that the desired survey promised some months ago may be hastened.

While the population of France increased in 1913 by 41,961, that of Germany increased by about 800,000.

The death-rate among underground workers in the United Kingdom increased from 1.25 in 1912 to 1.74 per thousand in 1913.

FIRST THINGS

The first movement for the independence of Ecuador was launched 105 years ago to-day, August 10, 1809, when the citizens of Quito deposed the Spanish governor of the province of Quito and established a revolutionary junta. Although the Spaniards soon regained control, and the first revolution was fruitless, the citizens of the republic of Ecuador have made the tenth of August their independence day and national fiesta. The next rebellion in what is now Ecuador broke out in Guayaquil in 1820, when the citizens of that city declared their independence. This movement succeeded, and the victory of the patriot army of Gen. Sucre in 1822 drove the last of the royalists from the country. Ecuador was incorporated with the Greater Colombia of Simon Bolivar, which included Colombia, Venezuela and Panama, but the people soon tired of this alliance and in 1830 the union was disrupted. In August of that year the republic of Ecuador, so called because of its situation under the equator, was formally launched. The republic has had many revolutions, the last commencing in 1911, and the country is still in an unsettled state. Quito, the capital, is only 15 miles south of the equator but its altitude of 9,500 feet gives it a cool and pleasant climate.

SCRAP BOOK

Centennial of Birth of Two Famous Confederates.

Confederate veterans and their sons and daughters will to-day honor the memory of two eminent defenders of the lost cause, the occasion being the centennial of their birth. General John Clifford Pemberton, although he fought under the Stars and Bars, was a native of Philadelphia, where he was born August 10, 1814. On the same date William Lowndes Yancey, one of the foremost statesmen of the confederacy, was born at Ogeechee Shoals, Ga.
Both Pemberton and Yancey served the United States, the former as a soldier and the latter as a congressman, before the slavery question alienated their allegiance. General Pemberton was educated in the science of war at West Point, and saw his first active service in Mexico, where he distinguished himself in the battles of Monterey and Molino del Rey. He was a captain when he resigned from the United States army in 1861 to enter the service of the confederacy. His first commission under the new flag was as lieutenant in the Virginia militia, but in a short time he was made brigadier-general. In 1862 he was placed in command of the department including South Carolina, Florida and Georgia.
In 1863 he conducted the campaign around Vicksburg, but was defeated when he faced Grant at Champion hills and Big Black river. He remained in command until the surrender of Vicksburg on July 4, 1863.
Pemberton's defence of Vicksburg has often been criticized. Johnston, after the first battle of Jackson on May 14, had in vain sought to induce Pemberton to join him and fight a decisive battle outside of Vicksburg. Instead of following this counsel, Pemberton entered the fortifications of Vicksburg, where for nearly seven weeks he successfully withstood the assaults of Grant's overpowering army.
The first and second assaults on the town were repulsed by Pemberton's men, just as Sherman's previous attempts had failed, and Grant's already large army was reinforced by 70,000 men before Vicksburg was taken. Pemberton surrendered 27,000 men, 128 pieces of artillery and 80 siege guns.
After the close of the war Gen. Pemberton settled in Virginia, where he died in 1881.
William Lowndes Yancey, who served the confederacy as a statesman and diplomat, was a native of Georgia, but in his youth he moved to Alabama, practiced law in Montgomery. Later he entered politics and engaged in journalism, and after serving in both houses of the Alabama legislature he was sent to the United States congress in 1844.
At Washington he was one of the leaders of the pro-slavery party, and was famed for his speeches in support of the institution. He resigned from congress to assume the practice of law, and did not take an active part in politics until 1861, when he reported the Alabama ordinance of secession to the convention in Montgomery. Just before that he had made a tour of the north, east and west, defending slavery and urging the defeat of the Republican candidate. Early in 1861, when Montgomery was the seat of the Confederate government, Yancey was sent to Europe to seek the recognition of the great powers for the new nation. Failing in this mission, he returned to Alabama, and was sent to the Confederate senate. He died near Montgomery on July 28, 1863, while the fate of the nation he had helped to found still hung in the balance.

GOLF CURE FOR GOUT.

The future of the British spa is considered by the leading expert on spa treatment to be considerably endangered by the enormous popularity of golf. Dr. Neville Wood, who gave this opinion to a London Standard representative, bases it on the fact that the two great ailments for which spa treatment is regularly advised are gout and rheumatism, and that golf is proving a great preventative of these diseases.
There is very little doubt of the fact that in these days of golf men take plenty of open-air exercise right through their middle years of life, and indeed, in many cases right on through the seventies. A decade or two ago a man of 65 content to resign himself to a sedentary life shortly after he had reached the thirties, and a sedentary life, as is well known, is the beginning of gout. Dr. Wood, who is the author of "British Health Resorts," or rather the editor of the volume, since each spa is described by resident experts, has a wide knowledge of both British and continental spas, and was the first to advise the British health resorts to cater for continental visitors in order to balance the annual exodus of Englishmen to foreign cures. He has given the subject much study, and considers that the time has come for the British spas to widen their appeal and to work together to advance the cause of spa treatment generally. If he is right in his opinion that the future of the spas is threatened by golf, that the middle-aged man is healthier in the fact that he is less liable to gout and rheumatism, what is to be done by the spas as a set-off?

Need for United Action.

A good deal might be done by unity of action amongst the spas. At present it is the practice for each spa to cir-cularize the medical profession by means of booklets, very naturally framed to give the impression that the spa described is the best for all diseases, and for practically every sort of patient. The position of a general practitioner, with possibly a dozen such booklets in his consulting room, must naturally be a difficult one when he had to decide upon any particular one for his patient to go to. Maybe he will recommend the spa that he happens to know, or, more likely, the one for which the patient expresses a preference. If the patient in the end goes to the spa most suitable for his complaint, it is largely a matter of luck. This could be obviated if the spas decided to issue to the medical profession one booklet or guide, sanctioned by each of them, and issued under the approval of a spa jury or panel of medical men.
Such a booklet could be accepted as final by every general practitioner, and it would result in each spa getting the benefit of its particular climate and water.

A FISH-HAWK STORY.

How the Kitten's Locket Was Found on the Nestling's Neck.

"I was so impressed with the man's revelation," said John Gilbert, the traveling groceryman, "that I was afraid to put my intended query as to what was the biggest fish he ever caught, and forgot entirely to ask him if he got the red squirrel."

"He was fishing from the river bank, with a long cane fishpole, and the blue flea on his line had never so much as shown a nibble during the hour I had sat patiently waiting to see him catch a fish. That he hadn't had a bite yet didn't seem to disturb him in the least, and he hadn't said a word to me.
I was on the point of relieving the monotony of the situation by asking him what was the biggest fish he ever caught, when he looked up and said:

"It's funny how careless fish hawks are in building their nests. And it is remarkable how few people there are who know how fish hawks build their nests, and where. Even the books don't seem to be sure about it. You know that, of course?"

"I was quite startled at this sudden and unexpected deliverance on the part of the lone fisherman, but I recovered at his query, and confessed that I did not know it. He was silent so long, his eyes fixed on the bright blue float that didn't signal him a bite yet, that I feared I wasn't to hear the rest about the fish hawk's nest, but he began again, by and by, and suddenly as he had at first.

"I am always glad that I remember just how it is done, and that I made the discovery myself. I should have put it on record before, I suppose, but you know how things slip your mind.
There ain't much to put on record, though, after all, but the question is often asked, and folks ought to know, of course, how to answer it.

"All there was about my discovering that fish hawks are of most careless habit in building their nests, and that the manner of their building is odd, was that one day I was out with my gun to kill a pestiferous little red squirrel."

"I noticed, before I shot, that a few old sticks were kind of bunched together on that limb, haphazard-like, just as if they had fallen there, or been tossed there by the wind. When I fired, though, and I didn't fire in that direction, either, I saw a sudden commotion in that jumbled bunch of sticks, and down toward the ground they began to rattle, and with them plunked down at my feet a couple of the oddest looking nestlings I ever saw.
They were as big as pigeons.

"By their hooked beaks I would have known they were young hawks, but I wouldn't have known they were fish hawks if the skeleton of what must have been a tremendous big fish hadn't come tumbling to the ground with 'em.
The fall, of course, killed the birds."

"So that was a fish hawk's nest, was it?" said I. "Well, I'm delighted to make the discovery, because now I can settle the question as to how and where fish hawks build their nests, but I am sorry to know that so noble a bird as the fish hawk is so lamentably careless in its building. A house that the simple report of a gun can shatter and turn inside out isn't just the one to rear a family in," said I.

"Now, that's all there is to put on record about that discovery, but it is something that folks ought to know.
There was an incident connected with it, though, that struck me as being a little odd, I remember, at the time.

"Hanging by a blue ribbon about the neck of one of the unfortunate hawklets was a gold locket, about as big as a quarter with the word

"Plores" engraved on it. I took it home, and somehow that trivial incident got into the papers.

"In the course of a couple of weeks or so I got a letter from a citizen of Newburg asking me if I would please return the ribbon and the locket to him, as it was the property of his wife.
They were originally worn by a pet
Maltese kitten of hers, he said.

"The citizen and his wife were now living on the river at Newburg one day.
The kitten was with them. It had in a playful mood, jumped from the lap of the citizen's wife into the river, sunk, and never appeared again.

"The citizen said a big fish had swallowed the kitten, and the simple detail of my having found the ribbon and the locket in the nest of a fish hawk was explained by the citizen as having resulted from the fish hawk having swooped down and caught the fish, lugged it home, and fed it to its young, one of which had in some way got the ribbon over its head as I had found it.

"I don't know how the man knew all this, but he asked me to please send the ribbon and the locket to him, and I did. Now you know how the fish hawk builds its nest, and how careless it is in building, so if anybody asks you about it you can tell 'em on the word. I am glad to know I made the discovery. Real glad!"

"I was so impressed with the man's revelation that I was afraid to ask him, as I had intended to, what was the biggest fish he ever caught, and he had pulled up his line and the inactive float and had gone before it occurred to me to ask him if he got the red squirrel!"—From the New York Sun.

ANCIENT ARTIFICIAL LIMBS.

There is in the museum of the Royal College of Surgeons, Lincoln's Inn
Fields, an artificial leg, made about 300
B.C., of bronze, wood and iron. Who has not heard of the famous "Iron Hand" made in Nuremberg, Germany, in 1594, for the German knight, Gutz von Berthlinghen? Among the old-time indians, axes, noses, and lips of plaster were quite common, one of their ordinary punishments being to cut off these useful parts of the human anatomy.
Greek and Roman veterans who had lost a leg or an arm in the wars used to replace them by substitutes and Plinius speaks of a Roman soldier who —about one hundred and fifty years B.
C.—was famous for the wooden limb with which he was still able to fight as an able swordsman. In 1904 the Duke of Brunswick had to use an artificial hand.

Artificial limbs with movable joints were also largely made by the famous Ambrose Pare—1517 to 1590—the celebrated French surgeon known as "The Father of French Surgery." He was surgeon to Henry the Second—1552—and also to Francis the Second, Charles in 1594, for the German knight, Gutz von Berthlinghen? Among the old-time indians, axes, noses, and lips of plaster
were quite common, one of their ordinary punishments being to cut off these useful parts of the human anatomy.

It was a scandal that those who had had the opportunities, privileges and fine chances in life should simply be thinking of Number One, of their own success and, above all, of their own pleasure, and forgetting others round about them who had a right to expect their help.—Prin-not exceeding one hundred and sixty

La Marquise de Fontenoy

Jean Jaures, recently murdered in Paris, was far and away the most eloquent speaker in parliament, the most eloquent, indeed, since the days of Gambetta, and the power that he wielded as leader of the Socialist and radical elements has been all the greater because he refused to take office. But the members of the Doumergue administration, and also of the present cabinet, were his obedient servants, and held their office by his occult selection and nomination, while even the majority of the Barthou cabinet regarded him as their master, to whom they owed obedience. Perhaps the greatest evidence of his power was the return of Joseph Caillaux to public life immediately after Mme. Caillaux's murder of Gaston Calmette, and without understanding the incrimination of Caillaux himself in the Rochette fraud scandals, while the amazing acquittal of Mme. Caillaux, in spite of her having been arrested red-handed, may likewise be ascribed to the influence of Jaures.

Contrary to general belief, this ardent Socialist, this representative of militant labor, this declared foe of law, order, capital and militarism, who was forever inciting the rank and file of the army and navy to resist the orders of their officers, on the ground that there was no such thing as any superiority of the latter and that perfect equality prevailed under the colors as in civil life, was a man of excellent family, of brilliant university education, of some fortune, the brother of Captain Jaures of the French navy, and the nephew of that gallant Admiral Jaures who commanded an army corps on land in the Franco-German war of 1870, and who died in 1889 as minister of marine.

His adoption of the foolish doctrines of communism of Karl Marx and of the same stripe, had the effect of alienating him from all his family, friends and relatives, and of estranging him even from his wife and children. More than once have these doctrines, of which he was the principal exponent in France, been torn to pieces with the most caustic and irrefragable logic, by such convinced republicans as Premier Clemenceau, etc. But he was deaf to all reason, and was never so happy as when in very hot parliamentary strife and when engaged in fighting. With all that, Jean Jaures was a man of the most simple, kindly manners, with a nature that was in no wise embittered or corrupted by the insinuations and insults of French parliamentary life. There was always a disposition to regard him as a mere orator. But the manner in which he managed to dominate, not one, but a series of cabinets, and even those that rebelled against him to treat with him as power to power, shows that if he was not a great statesman, he was at any rate a great politician, the greatest occult force in French public life since the death of Gambetta.

For the sake of advertisement, the impressive of the young woman who styles herself "Gaby Deslys," are forever revamping up the old foolish and totally unfounded story, to the effect that King Manuel had sacrificed the throne of Portugal for her sake and that she was the principal cause of the loss of his crown. It may be of interest therefore to state that she is not an exponent of Parisian art of dancing, or of Parisian chic and elegance. In fact, she is not a Frenchwoman at all, but a Bohemian peasant girl, a native of the village of Horni Mostenice, in Moravia, where she was born in the year 1884, that is to say, thirty years ago. Her real name is not Gaby Deslys, but Hedwig Nawratil. She spent several years as a chambermaid in private families and hotels, before she turned up as a chorus girl on the stage.

She made use of a whole series of stage names, first of all that of Hedwig Rogee, then of Maria Nogradi. Afterwards she was known on the Austrian musical stage as Little Havarin. Then she fell in with a Russian dancer, who took her in hand with such good results that she was able to make her appearance in the cafe chantants of Paris, under the name of "Gaby Deslys." All this has been brought to light through the Vienna Official Gazette of a fortnight ago, which publishes a judgment against her by the courts, for a very large unpaid jewelry bill, due to a Viennese firm.

MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

HUMAN PROCESSION

Paul M. Warburg, the New York banker and financier, who has been the storm center of a heated political controversy since his appointment last May as a member of the United States Federal Reserve board, is a native of Germany and will celebrate his forty-sixth birthday to-day. Although a comparatively young man, Mr. Warburg is one of the supreme powers of financial America, and since the death of the elder J. P. Morgan he has often been described as Wall street's arbiter. Muckraking magazine writers go farther, and ascribe to Mr. Warburg such powers as render him "the real ruler of the United States." The editor of Pearson's Magazine recently expressed this view of Mr. Warburg's activities: "It is announced from Berlin that one of the most famous of the German periodicals is about to send its leverest writer to Washington to view the government and president of the United States." "Washington? Why Washington? He will not Paul M. Warburg at Kuhn, Loeb & company's office in New York every week-day from 10 to 5." This journalistic editor probably over-estimates Mr. Warburg's omnipotence, for lately the eminent banker lamented, "I cannot help what the papers have printed."

Like many other distinguished financiers, Mr. Warburg has never sought publicity, and to have it thrust upon him in such large quantities has rendered him somewhat peevish. Until the recent controversy the general public knew little or nothing of the personality of the men who are credited with such vast powers.

Paul Moritz Warburg is his full name, and he was born in Hamburg, Germany, August 10, 1868. He was educated in his native land and graduated from the University of Hamburg at the age of eighteen. His business career was commenced in the office of a commission firm in his native city, and at twenty he entered his father's banking house.

The firm of W. M. Warburg & company is one of the oldest and most celebrated of German banking houses. It was established in 1793 by the great-grandfather of Paul M. Warburg, and was continued by his sons and grandsons. Paul Warburg served but a brief apprenticeship there, and then proceeded to England, where he spent a year studying London financial methods and practices. In 1891 he carried on similar studies in France, and then made a tour of the earth, paying his first visit to the United States.

Having completed his education, Mr. Warburg became a partner in the family banking house, and also served for a time as a member of the municipal council of his native city.

It was in 1902 that Mr. Warburg landed in New York and became a partner in the great banking house of Kuhn, Loeb & company. He has since become the most influential member of that firm, and one of the powers of the financial world. In 1906 he published "Defects and Needs of Our Banking System," and similar essays followed and were widely read and discussed. For many years he has been a leader in the campaign for banking and currency reform through a concentration of reserves, and the creation of discount markets. He helped to found the national child labor committee, and other philanthropic organizations have enlisted his interest. Last year he was the recipient of the Order of the Crown from the kaiser.

TO-DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

The early history of what are now the provinces of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia and the state of Maine, is one of constant warfare for possession between the British and the French, with the Dutch occasionally taking a hand. Acadia had its beginning in a French Huguenot settlement established on an island in the mouth of the St. Croix, between the present boundaries, as defined by the French, included a large part of the state of Maine. In 1621 Sir William Alexander obtained a grant of the whole of Acadia, including the present Maritime Provinces and a part of Maine, and on August 10 of the following year Sir Fernando Gorges and Captain John Mason procured the Plymouth council a patent of "all the country between the Merrimack and Sagadahoc, from the Atlantic to the rivers Canada and Iroquois," which they named the province of Laconia. Acadia was thus parcelled out by the English, but a long period of warfare was to follow before England could take possession. By the treaty of Utrecht, in 1713, "all Nova Scotia, Annapolis Royal and all other things in those parts," were ceded by France to Britain. In the meantime the country had been surrendered to Massachusetts, including all the territory east to the St. Croix and Nova Scotia. She afterward relinquished Nova Scotia, but the remainder of the territory was secured to Massachusetts by the treaty which established the independence of the United States. A century ago a large part of Maine was occupied by the British, but was relinquished, and later the New Brunswick-Maine boundary dispute brought the countries to the verge of war before the dividing line was finally fixed.

A Simple Way to Reduce Wrinkles

Remember that wrinkles and bagginess of cheek or chin are due to the muscular tissue losing its strength and elasticity. The skin is then too large in area to fit the face smoothly. It wrinkles or sags. To remedy this condition, there is nothing so effective, so quick-acting, as a simple and harmless wash lotion easily made at home. Get an ounce of powdered sassaillaite or your druggist's, and a half pint of witch hazel, mix the two and bathe your face in the liquid. This at once tightens the skin and solidifies the underlying tissue—which, of course, smooths out the lines and draws in the sagging skin. It also stimulates circulation, bringing a feeling of freshness and snugness to a tired face.

It is a great pity that those responsible for our educational system do not see to it that when children pass out of school into life they should have some definite elementary conceptions as to the government of their country and their duties as citizens.—Mr. L. G. Chiozza Money, M. P.

CANDIDATES FILE

NOMINATION PAPERS

Aldermanic Aspirants Will Offer Themselves for Electors' Choice Thursday

Candidates were nominated to-day for the civic election, to fill the seat held by ex-Alderman Cuthbert. The nominations were received between noon and 2 p. m. at the police court. Returning Officer W. W. Northcott acting, with William Scowcroft, as deputy. No aldermanic by-election having occurred since the wards were abolished, the extent of the voting on Thursday is difficult to predict. The vote for alderman and for the two by-laws, for Rock Bay bridge, and the Ross Bay seawall fund diversion to cemetery improvements, will all be held at the market building, Cormorant street.

The returning officer expects to see a vote of about 2,500 registered, which is small compared with the size of the roll, but the voting has come at a time when the public mind is engaged with a great war.

The by-laws will be before an electorate somewhat different from that entitled to vote for alderman, only the freeholders having a vote on money by-laws. A new electoral list in accordance with the assessment roll of 1914 has been prepared for the poll. The roll which was used for the annual election, and for the school board by-election in March will be that for aldermanic voters.

The candidates nominated are all well-known men who have been resident in the city for a considerable time.

The following candidates were nominated: McIntosh, David, 2311 McBride avenue, real estate agent, nominated by R. W. Perry, seconded by John Cochran.

McMicking, Robert Burns, 464 Kingston street, retired, nominated by Robert H. Swinerton, seconded by George Ager.

Wilson, William McPherson, 1460 Grant street, gentleman, nominated by

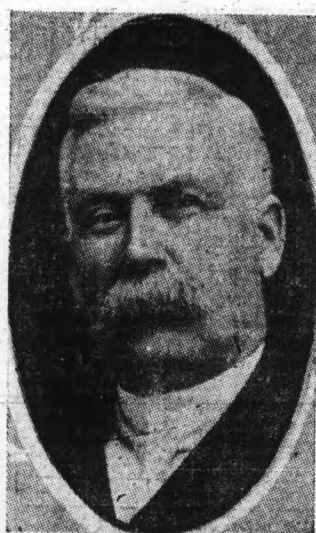

R. B. McMICKING

F. B. Pemberton, seconded by Richard Hall.
 Mackenzie, Alexander, 2440 Quadra street, financial agent, nominated by Robert J. Porter, seconded by Robert Dowsell.

W. M. WILSON

CAPT. D. MINTOSH

ALEXANDER MACKENZIE

I. O. D. E. ARRANGE FOR CITY "TAG DAY"Collectors Will Be Out Tomorrow to Raise Hospital Ship Fund

The keenest desire to assist the national chapter of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire was evinced by the size and enthusiasm of the general meeting of the chapters and their friends held this morning at the Alexandra club. Mrs. Croft presided, supported by Mrs. Roper, Miss Crease, Mrs. Fred Pemberton, and Mrs. J. D. Gordon, secretary of the provincial chapter. The proceedings opened with the singing of the National Anthem.

Mrs. Croft at the commencement of the proceedings outlined the object of the meeting, which, she said, had been summoned owing to the call made by the National Chapter, I. O. D. E., for the equipment of a hospital ship. As agent of the Provincial chapter she had deemed it advisable to begin the work of collecting at once. A telegram from Mrs. Gooderham, president of the National Chapter, which came this morning, was read. This was as follows:

"The central committee formed for the Canadian women's hospital ship, Her Royal Highness the Duchess of Connaught, honorary president; wives of Lieutenant-governors, Lady Borden and Lady Laurier, honorary vice-presidents; Mrs. Gooderham, president; representatives from the I. O. D. E., the National Council of Women, the W. C. T. U., Women's Institutes, Women's Art Associations, etc., as councillors; advisory board, military men, red cross, etc. This movement embraces all Canadian women. We hope you have begun work as we must act quickly."

(Sgd.) M. R. GOODERHAM, "President."

Mrs. Croft explained also that a meeting was being held to-day in Ottawa under the presidency of H. R. H. the Duchess of Connaught, to organize the fund for the hospital ship. All women in Victoria, it was pointed out, might be enabled to feel a personal proprietorship in the gift of the Canadian women to the Mother country by giving a donation, no matter how small. British Columbia's share in the undertaking would probably amount to about $10,000, but as no definite information as to the proportion to be subscribed by this province was to hand they would await the reply to the telegram which had been sent requesting particulars as to this. Mrs. Croft explained that she had wired to all the cities in British Columbia, and expected to receive answers from all within the course of to-day.

On the discussion of the fund arising, Mrs. Pemberton volunteered, and was appointed to deal with the fund, and the following representatives of the various women's societies in the city were appointed to assist her: For the Women's Auxiliary, Mrs. Pemberton; for the National Chapter, Mrs. Hanington; for the Navy League Chapter, Mrs. W. J. Roper; for the Daughters of England, Mrs. Warren.

The first vice-regent of the Municipal Chapter of the Winnipeg I. O. D. E., Mrs. Jones, was introduced by Mrs. Croft to the meeting, and briefly assured the warm support and sympathy which would be given to the fund and its purpose by all the Daughters of the Empire, as well as other women, of the Prairie Provinces.

This statement was greeted with applause, as were the offers of subscriptions made later by several of the members. Mrs. Jenkins on behalf of the Women's Canadian club, announced that she would subscribe $100; Mrs. W. J. Roper, for the Navy League, expressed the readiness of that chapter to contribute $50 now and $50 later.

Mrs. Home, speaking for the Municipal Chapter, expressed its decision to hand over its entire reserve fund for the hospital ship fund.

Miss Morrison was appointed, on motion of Mrs. Hanington, to represent the National Nurses' association on the general central committee.

In the course of the discussion some excellent suggestions were given expression to. Mrs. Hanington pointed out the importance of caring for the families of reservists or others called on service, and also emphasized the need for supplying the soldiers of diet which are not regularly supplied to the men on service. She also referred with pride to the splendid offer of flour, made by the Canadian government, and pointed out that there were local organizations who were willing to step in and do a similar thing for the local troops; a representative of the Royal Oak Women's institute had come with the offer of fruit. She hoped it would be possible to arrange for this to be supplied to the men.

Mrs. Jenkins heartily endorsed the idea of the previous speaker. She related the attention of the meeting, however, to the question of the patriotic fund, which received a fresh impetus through the passing of the following resolution, moved by Mrs. R. S. Day, seconded by Mrs. Jenkins:

"The members of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire of Victoria, B. C., in special meeting assembled on this day, August 10, 1914, beg to forward the following resolution to the department of agriculture of the Dominion government in Ottawa:

"Whereas, it is understood that an appropriation of $50,000 has been made for the purpose of holding a Dominion exhibition this year in Victoria, B. C., and whereas the present Imperial sitting demands the curtailment of every unnecessary expense and the application of all available funds to the protection and defence of the Empire.

"Therefore, be it resolved that we the members of the I. O. D. E. in Victoria, B. C., do respectfully petition the department of agriculture of the Dominion government to cancel the holding of this exhibition this year in this city and apply all money over and above what has already been expended of this appropriation to the present urgent necessities of war."

This resolution was passed by standing vote, after some discussion as to the advisability of pushing forward the suggestion in connection with an undertaking which one member at least seemed to consider lay entirely outside the realm of women's jurisdiction, and should be considered alone by the Dominion government. Supported by Miss Crease, Mrs. Hanington, and others, however, opinion was moved in favor of the resolution, which will be forwarded at once to Ottawa. On motion of Miss Crease a copy of the resolution was also ordered to be forwarded to the Local Council of Women.

The appointment of workers took up the remaining time of the meeting, and Mrs. Croft explained that the committee which was to handle the funds would be composed of the members of every women's society in the city.

To-morrow will be "Tag Day" for the fund, and several volunteers for the fund were accepted to collect. Miss Violet Pooley being appointed to select a corps of collectors for the city, while Miss Tolmie took charge of the Cloverdale district.

SCHOOL FINANCE

ing to Curtail Expenditure.

Although the tenders for the new Hillside school are to be in by the next meeting of the city school board on Wednesday, it is improbable that any contract will be let at the present juncture. The board has enough debentures sold to finance a contract, but the outlook is very gloomy for the sale of additional bonds, the attitude which the finance committee will probably adopt is that it is unwise at the present time to let any new contracts for work of a capital character, with the possible exception of the South Park manual training building, which involves only a few thousand dollars.

If the board decides to return the bids unopened, it will be following a precedent which it set itself last fall in laying over the Hillside school contract until times became better. At that time it was felt desirable to sell further debentures before letting the contract. With the exception of the South Park annex, to which reference has been made, the Hillside school completes the programme so far as the debentures authorized will go at present, apart from an appropriation to add four rooms to the Bank street school. Should the board adopt this policy, the only work which will remain in the way of construction next term is the Margaret Jenkins school, a new school has been acquired at Fernwood, but there is no appropriation for the building, and only temporary quarters will be operated at the present time.

In addition to building matters to be determined at that meeting, the principal business will be to receive the assignment list of teachers for next term, which the inspector is preparing.

MEETINGS

Meet on Tuesday.—I. O. F., Court Cariboo, I. O. Foresters, will meet on Tuesday evening in the old quarters, Princess theatre, hall No. 2, Yates street. As this is the first meeting there since the renovation of the building a full attendance is hoped for, and visiting members of the order are cordially invited to attend.

Open Air Meeting.—The Baptist Young People's union of Emmanuel church will hold its usual fortnightly open-air meeting, at the camp at Mrs. T. L. Boyden's, Lampton street, near the sea, this evening at 8 o'clock. An interesting novelty programme has been arranged. Refreshments will also be provided. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

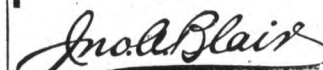

A quiet wedding took place in St. Andrew's cathedral this morning at 8 o'clock, when May Augusta, daughter of Mrs. Blanche Ratcliff, of 123 Michigan street, was united in marriage to Louis Augustine de Macedo, of 434 Simcoe street. The ceremony was performed by Father MacDonald, who celebrated the Nuptial Mass which followed. The bride looked charming in a blue traveling suit. She was given away by her mother and was assisted by Maria de Macedo, sister of the groom, who acted as bridesmaid. Joseph F. de Macedo acted as best man. The altar and chancel rail were prettily decorated with cut flowers and potted palms. After the ceremony the bridal party went to the home of the bride's mother, where a wedding breakfast was served. After a honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. de Macedo will make their home in Victoria.

OBITUARY RECORD

The funeral took place this morning of Mrs. Caroline Augusta Lubbe, from her late residence, 910 Linden avenue, a requiem mass being held at St. Andrew's cathedral, Rev. Father Behnen officiating. The only hymn was "Nearer My God to Thee," rendered by Frank Sehl. The interment subsequently took place at Ross Bay cemetery, Rev. Father Macdonald reading the committal service. There was a very large attendance, showing the sympathy of her many friends with the family. The pallbearers were Messrs. Hallam, Perdue, Wilson, Hiscocks, Phair and Simon Leiser.

The death occurred on Saturday night of Miss Mary Montgomery, housekeeper of Alisa Mansions, Cook street, at the age of 70. The deceased, who passed away at St. Joseph's hospital, was born at Ayr, Scotland, and had lived for the past two years in this city. Altogether she had lived for four years in the Dominion. The interment will take place to-morrow at 10:30 from the B. C. Funeral chapel, Rev. Gilbert Cook officiating.

The death took place yesterday of George Markill Butler, the nine months' old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Butler of Tillamook road after a short illness. The funeral will take place to-morrow morning at 9:15 from the Victoria Undertaking parlors and fifteen minutes later from St. Andrew's Catholic cathedral Rev. Father Letorne to officiate.

WANTS PROTECTION

Mayor of Prince Rupert Calls on Colonel Roy and Premier McBride.

Mayor S. M. Newton, of Prince Rupert, and Fred Peters, K. C., city solicitor, paid visits this afternoon to Colonel Roy, commanding officer of the 11th military district, and to Sir Richard McBride, premier of the province, with a view to obtaining some aid from the militia department for the unprotected city of Prince Rupert.

"Our danger of being molested by a German cruiser is very small," said Mayor Newton to the Times this morning. "But we wish to have some protection for fear there should be trouble. When I left there was no force of any kind, although since enlistment has begun in a new regiment."

CHICAGO WHEAT DIPS ALL OFFERINGS TAKEN

December 99 and May 107 1/2
With Reaction at Last Hour

(By E. W. Stevenson & Co.)
Chicago, Aug. 10.—From the very strong close Saturday there was an early dip in wheat prices to 99 for December, 107 1/2 for May. A big elevator concern took all the offerings for the early month. Wire houses bought December heavily. The entire speculation trade resumed excited buying operations and prices were advanced 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 from low point. There was natural reaction the last hour. The trade was without Liverpool quotations during the morning and gave little heed to the prices in that market quoted 1 to 1 1/2 higher at the close.

SAN FRANCISCO GRAIN PRICES ARE VERY WIDE

San Francisco, Aug. 10.—For the first time since the war threw markets of the world into unrest, the San Francisco grain exchange was in session this afternoon. Variance between prices asked and bid were so wide that it was practically impossible to do business. An effort will be made to resume tomorrow.

WINNIPEG MARKET IS FOLLOWING AMERICANS

Winnipeg, Aug. 10.—Wheat prices were stronger on unfavorable weather conditions in the Canadian west and in sympathy with prices on the United States markets. An impression is abroad that some arrangement will be devised soon to resume exporting trade to Europe, this having its effect on the southern markets. By the gift of 1,000,000 bushels of flour to Great Britain by the Canadian government the flour trade locally will not be affected, according to the millers. Trading in all lines was quiet here and a good existing demand for all grades of cash wheat, but offerings were nil, and owing to this being a bank holiday business was restricted. Winnipeg wheat opened 1/2 to 3/4 higher and closed 1/2 to 3/4 higher. Cash wheat closed 3/4 to 1/2 higher for contract grades. Cash barley closed unchanged. The number of cars inspected on Saturday was 90 as against 198 last year.

United States paying Mrs. Wilson its tribute
Congress in recess and government offices closed this and tomorrow afternoons.

UNITED STATES PAYING MRS. WILSON ITS TRIBUTE

Washington, Aug. 10.—The nation today is paying final tribute to Mrs. Woodrow Wilson. Arrangements for the funeral services in the east room of the White House will be marked by simplicity. Only members of the Wilson family, and a very few intimate members of the cabinet and their wives, committee members from the senate and the house and the employees from the White House were asked to be present.

Those invited made a group of less than two hundred persons. The mahogany casket covered with gray broadcloth was taken from the room in which Mrs. Wilson died to the east room, and there surrounded by a profusion of flowers sent from all parts of the country.

With the president and his daughters, Miss Margaret Wilson, Mrs. McAdoo and Mrs. Sayre, were Secretary McAdoo, Francis Sayre and Professor Stockton Axson, Mrs. Wilson's brother, who arrived today from Oregon.

Both houses of congress were in recess until tomorrow, and orders were issued that all government departments be closed at 1 o'clock today and tomorrow afternoon. All flags in the city on public buildings and private homes and stores were at half mast.

The journey to Rome, Georgia, where Mrs. Wilson will be buried Tuesday afternoon beside her mother and father in Myrtle hill cemetery will be made on a special train.

400 MEN SHOULD GO FROM THE ISLAND

Ex-President of Board of Trade Talks of Various Phases of War

An estimate of the number of men who should go from Vancouver Island to the war was made this morning by J. J. Shallcross, ex-president of the board of trade. In speaking of the situation which has been created by the war, and the call to reservists, particularly in relation to local industries, Mr. Shallcross estimated that forty thousand should be the total complement for the Dominion, which, on a basis of an equal distribution for the provinces, would be 400 from Vancouver Island.

In his opinion it was a grave mistake for men with families or men holding permanent positions to be called to the front at the present juncture, before the situation had become critical. He regarded the call now to be to men who were not in permanent employment, and who had not dependents upon them. For his part he did not agree with the resolution of the council of the board passed on Friday which would have placed the entire responsibility for maintaining reservists' families upon the employers of labor, rather than upon the community at large. For that reason he agreed with the city council in assuming certain responsibilities as a body representing the whole people, but placed the situation of the private employer in an entirely different category.

He considered that the position of Canada today gave an opportunity to demonstrate the truth of the claim which had been made by the Dominion authorities that the best way in which active assistance could be given in war time to the United Kingdom was by way of supplying the food stuffs rather than in armaments. He regarded it as a duty of the overseas dominions to provide for the two classes in Great Britain who were most affected by the war, those directly dependent on the efforts of men called to the colors, and secondly that class which was always on the verge of actual want. Because if the dominions failed to find that food supply, an insurrection might break out in Great Britain which would cripple the empire at her heart in this time of stress.

The amount of trade which Canada would do in the next twelve months depended on the duration of the war, and also upon the capacity to keep the Atlantic route open for the mercantile marine. If the market for foodstuffs was curtailed by the crippling of shipping on the Atlantic, then there would be considerable artificial impetus given to consumption at home, the extent of which was impossible to estimate.

If the war was prolonged, Mr. Shallcross said the harvest next year would be a critical one in view of the great demands made upon it, and he hoped there would be an increase in crop acreage of at least twenty-five per cent. when the 1915 crops were planted. Mr. Shallcross' views were the subject of reference in several of the churches yesterday, after he had been in consultation with the respective clergy.

I. O. D. E. HELPING

Would Assist in Holding Open Positions for Recruits if Possible; 700 "Housewives" Supplied.

The headquarters of the I. O. D. E., Temple building, present the greatest activity, and nothing within the power of the women of Victoria to alleviate any suffering which has sprung indirectly from the war locally, or to assist the troops, is being neglected. More than 700 "housewives" have already been supplied to the Gordon Highlanders, the 8th regiment, and to the naval men, and as soon as ever the requisite number of these can be turned out every man in the regiments will be supplied.

The fund is growing rapidly, a number of small donations having come in this morning. Offers of assistance continue to come in freely. One physician this morning sent his name to the headquarters accompanied by an offer of free assistance in any capacity in which it might be required.

A message from Petty Officer Geary at the naval yard yesterday announced that a contingent of seven officers and 106 men had come in and that there were certain provisions which they would welcome. Among those mentioned were forks, which the daughters of the Empire promptly secured for the men.

This morning a message was sent out by the I. O. D. E. asking employers if they would apply to them wherever their employees were called out on service, as if possible the ladies would do everything to hold open the positions of clerk or other office for men until they were enabled to return to their duties.

INDISPOSITION OF POPE OFFICIALLY DENIED

Rome, Aug. 10.—The Tribune today reported that the pope was indisposed, suffering from a slight influenza, but this was denied at the Vatican, where it was stated he was granting many audiences and receiving congratulations on the eleventh anniversary of his coronation.

MILITIA MOBILIZED READY FOR SERVICE

Highlanders and Cavalry in Camp at Willows; Fusiliers Stationed at Dockyard

The whole of the militia in Victoria and Vancouver is now mobilized and waiting under arms for a call to duty. From early morning until nearly noon the streets were filled with soldiers hastening to and fro on missions connected with the order which was issued Saturday night.

The 50th Highlanders paraded at Central School grounds at 9 o'clock over 600 strong. Some 443 marched at 10.30 to the Fair grounds at the Willows and went into camp there. The balance attended to the transportation of kits and provisions and cooking outfit.

The B. C. Horse paraded at 11.30 on the Isolation Hospital grounds and marched about 1 o'clock to the Fair grounds. The squadron paraded at peace strength, 78 officers and men. Uniforms and kits were provided by the headquarters staff at Work Point and reached the regimental headquarters in the Belmont block basement at midnight Sunday. The members of the squadron were reached by telephone and under direction of Sergeant-Major Meakin the uniforms were served out all during the night.

The 88th regiment is camped at the naval dockyard. Three companies of the regiment were already in barracks when the order to mobilize was issued and the remainder of the regiment went out in detachments of sometimes a company and sometimes only a section all during the day. The men were outfitted and dispatched to the dockyard as fast as they reported at the regimental headquarters.

Colonel Roy, D. O. C., announced this afternoon that similar steps had been taken with the Vancouver regiments, while in the case of Prince Rupert enlistment in the new unit being organized there is proceeding as rapidly as possible.

The Highlanders made a magnificent showing when they paraded at the Central school this morning. So many men have come into the regiment during the past week that nearly 100 of those who paraded this morning were clad in ordinary khaki uniforms with a bit of plaid stuck in their caps. Not enough kits were available to outfit the lot. There were eight good companies. The men were in field service order with everything that they would carry on a campaign. They were accompanied by regimental transport and train transport in the hands of 150 men told off for that duty.

Guards were stationed at the various entrances of the fair grounds, and the men were told that any who left the grounds would be treated as deserters. The public will not be admitted to the camp.

The men were allotted the main building for sleeping quarters and the restaurant for a dining room. The officers' mess was established in the women's building. The raw men in the regiment will be drilled for several hours a day while the regiment is in camp, and the whole regiment will be busily engaged in perfecting its training.

RAINBOW OFF COAST OF CALIFORNIA TO-DAY

Eureka, Cal., Aug. 10.—The steamer City of Topeka, which arrived here today from San Francisco, reports that she sighted the British protected cruiser Rainbow off Point Reyes yesterday afternoon. The captain of the Topeka believed the Rainbow was standing off the Golden Gate looking for German prizes. The length of time she will be able to do so, however, is not great, as she was allowed by the authorities of the port of San Francisco to take on but fifty tons of coal, sufficient to carry her with what she had to the nearest home port.

HARRISON LINE SAILINGS ARE ORDERED CANCELLED

San Francisco, Aug. 10.—The United States is apparently going on with its coal shipping as usual. The steamer Arizonan left Norfolk for this port Tuesday. The steamer Vimy, which was to sail Aug. 10 from Norfolk for this port with coal, will undoubtedly have her charter cancelled and an American vessel substituted.

The local agency of the Harrison line has received instructions to cancel all sailing dates.

The Grace liner Santa Cecilia has arrived here from San Pedro and New York. The only vessels of this line which could be affected by the disturbance are the Colusa, owned by the company, and the foreign vessels operated under charter between here and the west coast.

The Union liner Canada Cape got away for Sydney on Saturday.

The Norwegian steamer Christian Bors has arrived from Shanghai with general cargo for Mitsui & Co., and will return with lumber for the same firm.

MANY SKIPPERS AFTER JOBS ON HILL LINERS

Portland, Aug. 10.—Speculation is being indulged in among local mariners as to who are to be appointed masters of the Hill greyhounds, the Great Northern and Northern Pacific, which will ply between Astoria, Ore., and San Francisco in the passenger and freight trade, beginning service early in 1915. The Great Northern is expected to be around here to go on the run the first or second week in January, and about a month later she will be followed by the Northern Pacific.

It is reported that some of the best-known captains on the coast have in applications for positions as master of the vessels. A coastwise mariner now in port says he knows two of the skipper who have in their applications. It is said that no appointments have been made yet, but it is believed that this detail will be attended to soon. The successful candidates, it is held, likely will be sent east to bring the liners to this coast.

JAPANESE GOVERNMENT OBTAINS TRANSPORTS

Tokio, Aug. 10.—The Japanese government today requisitioned several additional transports. The emperor is expected to interrupt his vacation and return Wednesday to Tokio from Nikko.

RAINBOW OFF COAST OF CALIFORNIA TO-DAY

Eureka, Cal., Aug. 10.—The steamer City of Topeka, which arrived here today from San Francisco, reports that she sighted the British protected cruiser Rainbow off Point Reyes yesterday afternoon. ## RAILWAY BRIDGE GUARD KILLS UNKNOWN PERSON

Three Deaths From Falling in of Bridge on Lake St. John Railway.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 10.—The militia department received word this morning that a train on the Quebec branch of the Lake St. John railway, on which Valcartier camp is located, fell through a bridge and three people were killed. The department has also been advised that an unknown person who was loitering in the vicinity of the bridge was shot and killed by a railway bridge guard, and it is not clear whether this occurred at the bridge where the fatal accident occurred or elsewhere.

O'CONNOR SPEAKS FOR AMERICAN NEWSPAPERS

London, Aug. 10, 4.20 p.m.—T. P. O'Connor, the Irish Nationalist, today in the House of Commons again opened fire on the press censorship established by the British government. He said that thousands of dollars spent by American newspapers had been wasted in consequence of the censorship, and he suggested that trained newspapermen should be added to the staff of the censorship bureau.

The Right Hon. Charles Hobhouse, speaking in behalf of the British post office authorities, disclaimed any responsibility for the censorship over which he said the war office exercised full and sole control. He said if there was any delay in forwarding messages after they had passed the censors he was ready to do what he could in the matter.

CECILIE GOLD CARGO HELD AT NEW YORK

New York, Aug. 10.—Guarded by forty express messengers and detectives, $10,000,000 in gold coin and $3,000,000 in silver bars, the treasure with which the steamer Kron Prinzessin Cecilie put into Bar Harbor, Maine, to avoid capture by British or French warships, arrived in New York by train. The money now goes to the treasury to be held for New York bankers, by whom it was to have been sent to Paris and London.

MARTIAL LAW DECLARED IN BELGIUM SATURDAY

Correspondent Says Mobs Destroyed Everything Belonging to Germans.

Berlin, Aug. 10 via London.—The Brussels representative of the official news agency here telegraphs from Goch that martial law was declared in Belgium Saturday, and that all foreigners have been ordered to leave the country. The correspondent says what happened in Belgium during the past several days surpasses the imaginable.

After war was declared mobs demolished all business places which either belonged to Germans or handled German goods.

Every ecstacy bearing allusion to Germany was removed, and anyone looking like a German was attacked in the streets or made the object of suspicion or espionage.

The most improbable anti-German reports were spread, the correspondent says, one of which was German soldiers had tried to murder General Leman, the governor of Liege. Thousands of Germans have left Belgium since Thursday under the protection of the American consul for Holland.

GERMAN FLEET AT TSING TAU SEIZES STEAMER

Tokio, Aug. 10.—The German fleet at Tsing Tau has already seized the Russian steamer Riazan carrying subjects, has driven 100 merchantmen to the refuge of Japanese ports, and has embarrassed the entire Japanese shipping in the Orient.

The press gives prominence to an alleged communication from America saying the United States is sending a fleet to Asia to protect its interests. The report is considered baseless, but it has nevertheless reawakened interest as to America's attitude. Forty missionaries, chiefly French, but some of them Germans, are leaving for their home countries to take their places in the armies.

SHIPS NOW HELD IN EASTERN SEAPORTS

Quebec, Aug. 10.—The following ships left Quebec Saturday and Sunday and are held at Father Point: The Donaldson liner Letitia, Allan liner Sicilian, C. P. R. liner Tyrolia, Cunard liners Alouana and Brayhead. The Empress of Britain and the Victoria are reported as having made port in Halifax.

R. liner Tyrolia, Cunard liners Alouana and Brayhead of the Head line.

NO CASUALTY LISTS TO BE PRINTED IN FRANCE

Paris, Aug. 10.—In order to prevent the German army staff obtaining an inkling of the movements of French troops the French government has forbidden the publication of casualty lists. A special office is to be opened in Paris where inquiries made by the families of soldiers will be answered, but the only information given will be whether the soldier named has been killed or wounded in battle or does not appear on the lists of killed and wounded.

GERMAN CRUISER TO TRY AND STEAM TO HAMBURG

New York, Aug. 10.—A dispatch from San Juan, Porto Rico, last night, said the German cruiser Karlsruhe had arrived there suddenly, taken on enough coal to permit her steaming to Hamburg and would leave today.

The Karlsruhe is believed to be one of the German cruisers which have been harrying French and British vessels leaving New York for European ports.

GERMAN ADVANCE UPON OURTHE VALLEY CEASES

MAY PARTICIPATE IN FLIGHT AROUND WORLD

Particulars Sent to Victoria Outlining How City May Become Supply Station

The city may share in the round-the-world flight from the Panama Pacific exposition by subscribing from $500 to $2,000, and thereby becoming a supply station in connection with the great flight.

This intimation has been conveyed to Industrial Commissioner Cuthbert by Arnold Cruchman, director of the bureau of aeronautics for the exposition. Mr. Cruchman, in a lengthy communication, points out that these supply stations will supply all the necessities which an aviator may require, but the oil fuel will be paid for by the competitors.

These supply stations will be established at different points en route all over the world, and each community which obtains one will be expected to provide an aerodrome, not necessarily of a permanent character, as the aviators are expected to remain in each station only from three to twenty-four hours. Prizes will not be distributed in lump sums, but will be paid for in first, second and third divisions for sectional flight from one town to another.

Discussing the situation, Mr. Cuthbert said this morning that in the willows park the city had an ideal situation for a depot. The flight could be made a good stroke of business, by making a charge for admission to the grounds on the day of arrival. That the city would have to contribute something is evident, but how much is a matter of arrangement. Mr. Cruchman undertaking to send an expert to Victoria to consult with the local authorities if there seems sufficient interest to secure a supply station here.

The city could rope off a section of the Willows park so that a display could be conducted without interfering with any other event which might be going forward, because at present it was impossible to know when the fliers would arrive in Victoria. The proposal is that one member of the provisional council should be appointed to represent the Victoria and Island Development association; another should be a petro expert, and the third man should be experienced in aeronautics. It may be necessary to go outside Victoria to obtain an experienced aviator, but as the competition will attract the leading aviators of the world, it is held that they are entitled to the very best advice which can be obtained in British Columbia in promoting a scheme of this character. The matter will be brought before the next meeting of the council.

IN SIXTY HOURS PEACE WILL REIGN FOR MEXICO

Transfer of Government to Be Made Known in Proclamation To-day.

Mexico City, Aug. 10.—A high official of the Mexican government said today that the transfer of the federal power in Mexico from President Carranza to the constitutionalists would be made peacefully within the next sixty hours.

The official added that Provisional President Carranza would issue a proclamation late today to the inhabitants of the federal capital giving details of the government's plan for the transfer. The plan includes the transfer of power from Francisco Carranza to Eduardo Iturbide, governor of the federal district. Carranza will go to Vera Cruz and Governor Iturbide will turn over the government to General Obregon, now in Tula with 25,000 men.

FOR BUYING WATER

City Will Be Given Opportunity to Bid for Saanich Business

The future of the outside municipalities as customers of the city when the Sooke waterworks is opened is closely bound up in the meeting which has been called for Thursday evening to consider the price to be charged Saanich for water when the great undertaking which has occupied the attention of the city council in the past three years is completed. While the unhappy closing up of the bond market has crippled the city to an indefinite degree, even the fiscal brokers not wishing to say what the full effect of the war will be, and while the future for Saanich selling its bonds when the issue has been submitted to the people may be dark, it is felt meanwhile there is nothing in the way of settling terms for the purchase of water.

It is rather as a potential than an actual customer that Saanich looms large as a district purchasing water in bulk, as its present small order of half a million gallons a day is nothing to the two millions or more which will be required when the waterworks of the district municipality have been established. The Saanich council has a weapon in its hands in the competition offered by the Esquimalt Waterworks company, which is prepared to underbid the city for the business, but just as the city was called upon to make its connection to the Esquimalt mains at the Gorge, so probably would Saanich be required to make its service connection at Craigflower road, involving considerable expense, should the proposal to tap the Sooke pressure pipe on Burnside road fail.

The city is called upon to treat
Saanich fairly because in the course of years it has drained dry the one lake in the municipality which could provide the district with water, yet it already has a customer in Oak Bay with whom a rate of ten cents per thousand has existed for years. Oak Bay, however, would have a justifiable claim to a reduction in charges if the city quoted less than ten cents a thousand gallons to Saanich.

Saanich, councillors declare themselves determined to leave to the people the question of making a choice between sentiment and business, between buying from a city with which all its interests are interwoven and from a private water company offering a cheaper rate. The city will want the business, but present financial prospects are that it will be unable to advance beyond the completion of the pressure line with the funds at the disposal of the water commissioner this year, so that there will be no water for sale for a considerable time to come.

It is hoped to have about half the town supply drawn from Humpback reservoir next winter.

The increasing absorption of young women into spheres of industrial and commercial activity, while tending to lighten the burden of parental obligation, was creating problems which in their final issue concerned the future of the race.—Rev. Thomas Oliver.

The results of the land and water events follow:
Sailing race—Harvey and Briggs challenge cup. Holder, Rev. Mr.
Aitken continues to hold cup.

Motor launch race—Koenig's challenge cup. Holder, H. H. Maloney, a fine race, won by Mr. Koenig by a narrow margin. This race is the best motor launch event ever held on Shawnigan lake.

Single scull pleasure boats—Alex.
Peden challenge cup. Holder, P.
Barry. G. Margelish beat Barry in a good race.

Four-oar lapstreak for "O. O." chal-

Day's crew.

Four-oar lapstreak—Walbank chal-
